End To Longshoremen's Costly Strike Is Ordered

South Locals Defy Order For Return

NEW YORK (UPI) — The International Longshoremen's Association ILA Friday ordered an end to the 34-day-old maritime strike but recalcitrant locals from North Carolina to Texas defied the back-to-work order.

A management negotiator for the southeastern coast said in Miami Friday night negotiations "are at a standstill" and the dock strike will continue at ports from Morehead City, N.C., to Tampa, Fla.

HOLDING OUT

An ILA local in Mobile, Ala., and longshoremen in Galveston, Tex., also were holding out for adjustments in local contracts.

Galveston dockworkers were offered a 39-cent hourly wage increase, two cents more than that received by East Coast longshoremen. This was "in line" with the East Coast settlement because Atlantic Coast dockers received two cents more in a medical clinic "fringe" benefit not contained in the Gulf Coast package.

Thaddeus Street, executive vice president of the Carlina Shipping Co., Charleston, S.C., said in Miami the main stumbling block in the Southeast was the "featherbedding" clause being demanded by unions. The clause specifies a minimum number of workers to be used on a job.

"This increases costs ridiculously," he declared. "They want us to hire men we don't need."

The ILA earlier had ordered all of its 75,000 members back on the job.

The Texas longshoremen did not immediately accept the offer despite a warning by Assistant Secretary of Labor James Reynolds that President Kennedy was "pretty fed up" with the strike and wanted it settled.

ILA headquarters in New York ordered all picket lines pulled down immediately, and said that

$8 BILLION GOAL

Tax Budget Cut Is Being Urged By House Group

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The powerful House Appropriations Committee organized Friday with committee leaders urging members to slash President Kennedy's $98.8 billion budget. There was talk of $8 billion as a minimum goal for the cut.

"I've never seen a budget that couldn't be cut," chairman Clarence Cannon told reporters after the initial closed-door session of the 50-man group. "This one is no exception."

Rep. Ben F. Jensen, R-Iowa, the committee's senior Republican member, said he told his colleagues the very future of America may hang on their success in trimming the President's record-high spending plans.

GREAT DEGREE

"I told them that we, to a very great degree, will determine whether or not this country will remain solvent," Jensen said. "Unless we remain solvent we can suffer the same fate of every nation in history that has traveled the full length of the spending road we have been traveling at breakneck speed for three decades or more."

Jensen said he and Cannon were in agreement that at least $8 billion could safely be trimmed from the President's appropriations requests. Cannon denied he had set any specific savings goal but said he was generally in agreement with Jensen.

"We've just had the greatest turnover in membership in the history of this committee," said Cannon. "Eight of the 50 members have just been appointed for the first time and two were added at the close of the last Congress.

"Some of us took the view that maybe the reason for the big turnover was that the people thought we had spent too much money last year. I must say though that there was not complete unanimity on that."

Delay Called In Search At Crash Scene

Five Are Missing In Maine B52 Accident Friday

GREENVILLE, Maine (AP) — Darkness brought an overnight halt Friday in the search for five airmen still missing from a B52 Stratofortress that crashed on a mountain near here.

Two crewmen were rescued — injured, but not seriously—and the bodies of two others were found near the wreckage of the $8-million jet bomber that smashed into the face of Elephant Mountain on Thursday—about 1,700 feet up the 2,600 foot peak.

SURVIVAL GEAR

The Air Force said the names of the two known dead would be released at noon Saturday.

Although the five still missing had survival gear, an Air Force spokesman expressed fear they couldn't survive the 10- to 20-below weather forecast for the snow-shrouded, heavily wooded terrain.

The spokesman said there was evidence all nine crewmen bailed out before the eight-jet bomber struck.

About 75 ground searchers battled drifts as high as 20 feet before darkness temporarily defeated them. Four helicopters and several planes tried to spot for them.

One ground search failed to find anyone at a pond where flying Game Warden Malcolm Maheu reported seeing smoke Friday afternoon.

Lt. Col. Dante E. Bulli of Cherry, Ill., the plane commander, was found near that pond. He apparently escaped with a broken ankle.

Also taken to Dow Air Force Base in Bangor was Capt. Gerald J. Adler of Houston, Tex., the navigator, whose feet were frostbitten.

Officials at Dow said both men were in a state of shock and couldn't be questioned.

Chilled Citizens Not To Expect Lasting Relief

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Weather Bureau warned chilled America on Friday not to expect any quick and lasting relief from the brutal cold gripping much of the nation.

A special announcement from the bureau's extended forecast branch said that so far—no matter what you shivering citizens think—this onslaught of cold has been no worse than the one of January 1962, over-all.

But then the forecasters come right on with the not-so-glad tidings that this one is expected to "be of longer duration and probably more severe" than the 1962 siege which lasted two weeks.

And if it's any consolation, this big freeze hasn't yet matched 1899, or even 1936, for wholesale nastiness.

Going into the how-come of the bad news, the announcement continues: "The intensity of the current frigid weather is associated with a high-pressure area that has persisted in the Gulf of Alaska, both at the surface and in the upper air. This, in turn, is associated with a meandering strong wind current — jetstream — flowing first northward to Alaska and then turning southward over Canada and deep into the interior of the heartland of the North American continent.

"In rapid succession, cold masses of arctic air have been driven deep into the United States by this prevailing pattern of great hemispheric wind belts. Forecasters at present see no indication of an enduring change in this pattern.

U.S. Notified About Its Bases

WASHINGTON (AP) — Spain notified the United States 11 days ago that it wants changes made in the 10-year-old air and sea base agreement between the two nations, it was disclosed Friday. There was no word of what demands were involved.

The development comes at a time when President Kennedy is remolding the nuclear missile strategy in Western Europe, closing down outmoded U.S. Mediterranean bases and placing greater reliance on roving Polaris submaries.

Heroic Teacher Dies In Flames

VIDALIA, Ga. (UPI) — A heroic school teacher perished Friday trying to save the lives of students inside a burning school house.

Miss Elnora Brannen, 60, brought out one student and then dashed back inside the blazing J. D. Dickerson Training School on another rescue mission. She did not come out.

Three of the 250 students in the building were reported missing for several hours but later were located in the crowd. Several students were trapped briefly in the structure, but officials managed an orderly evacuation.

Firemen said the blaze started in the boiler room where a janitor had noticed a defective steam boiler when he came to work in 19-degree weather Friday morning.

Stennis Says Cuba Buildup Probe Is Set

Preparedness Subcommittee To Investigate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., said Friday his Senate Preparedness subcommittee will investigate what he sees as a "rapid buildup of military might in Cuba"—a situation which many Republicans claim is a grave military threat to this nation.

The Mississippian thus, in effect, sided with those who claim the Soviet missile withdrawal of last autumn did not end the Communist-run island's menace to the United States.

And the move appeared to array him against the views of President Kennedy who only Thursday told a news conference there has been no recent offensive buildup in Cuba.

SECRET BRIEFING

Stennis acted a few hours after administration leaders had given a secret briefing to the Senate's Latin-American Affairs subcommittee.

A Republican senator emerged from that briefing to bear down anew on his party's theme of a Cuban military peril and he received some support from a Democratic colleague.

Stennis set no date for the hearings by his subdivision of the Armed Services Committee but said: "Reports which have come to me indicate that the continued presence and buildup of military might in Cuba is rapidly converting Castro's forces into the second most powerful military power in this hemisphere.

"Since these forces were controlled by the hostile rulers of Communist Russia it is imperative that we examine carefully the military aspects of the Cuban situation from the standpoint of the threat which it poses to our security and the state of our own military preparedness to meet and counter this threat."

Sens. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., and Stuart Symington, D-Mo., made clear to newsmen their apprehensions were not stilled in a secret briefing of a Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee by Secretary of State Dean Rusk and

Rep. Hagen Is Attacked By Robbers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Harlan Hagen, D-Calif., said he was slugged, knocked to the ground and robbed early Friday after leaving a night club in the northeast section of the capital.

Hagen, 48, said Friday night his nose is badly swollen and his face cut, but he does not believe he needs medical attention.

Police Chief Robert V. Murray said robbery squad detectives are investigating a report "that a congressman was beaten and robbed early today." Murray did not name the congressman, but said there would be an official report on the incident later.

GRAB WALLET

Hagen told a reporter that after attending a dinner at a downtown hotel he went to a night club to hear some jazz, and that after he left he was beaten, knocked down and had his trousers torn by robbers who grabbed his wallet from his pocket.

He said he does not know how many men attacked him, nor would he be able to identify them.

Hagen said he does not know exactly how much money was in his wallet, but estimated $80.

Mrs. Hagen, reached at their home in nearby Arlington, Va., said her husband has a bruised nose and that she had urged him to have it X-rayed.

She said she knew nothing of the details of the incident.

Machinists Walkout Is Forestalled

Kennedy Directs Action To Delay Strike On Boeing

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI)—President Kennedy Friday asked for and got a court order forestalling a machinists' union strike against the missile-making Boeing Co.

The strike was scheduled to begin at 12:01 a.m. local time today at various points across the nation, including Cape Canaveral, Fla. and Vandenberg Air Force Base.

U.S. District Judge William J. Lindberg granted a temporary restraining order and set Feb. 1 for a hearing on the matter.

INJUNCTION

At that time the court may continue the order as an 80-day injunction under the Taft-Hartley law.

Kennedy directed the strike-halting action because, he said, a strike against the Giant Boeing Co. would imperil the nation's defenses.

Approximately 40,000 production and maintenance workers are in the bargaining involved in the labor dispute between Boeing and the International Association of Machinists (IAM).

Boeing produces the Minuteman, the nation's prime intercontinental ballistic missile, and also manufacturers the KC-135 jet tanker and the Vertol helicopter.

The company is also engaged in the nation's Apollo space program, designed to put a man on the moon.

Carl Eardley, chief of litigation for the Department of Justice, flew here from Washington, D.C. Friday on direction of the President, to work with U.S. Attorney Brock Adams of Seattle in seeking the court order.

In addition to members of the IAM—in this case the affiliated Aero Mechanics Union—the court order includes approximately 300 members of the International United Welders Union and some members of the United Auto Workers.

South's Rare Temperatures Finally Rising

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—The coldest weather of the century, which caused 25 deaths in the Deep South, moderated Friday. Temperatures rose from the rare, below-zero readings to the comparative comfort of freezing.

The bitter cold skidded temperatures as much as 60 degrees in some areas. Livestock suffered, there was a shortage of natural gas used for heating, and damage to grazing crops, plumbing and automobiles.

Bowling Green, Ky., awoke Friday to 11 below zero, compared to 21 below Thursday. Atlanta, chilled by 3 below Thursday, warmed up to 11 above early Friday and thermometers climbed to a degree or so above freezing by noon.

Senator Soaper Says

The budget bears a price tag of $98,800,000,000 — evidence of the administration's grasp of psychological principles, which makes the $9.98 item sound so much cheaper than if priced $10.

The office grouch says the birds refuse to touch the crumbs he puts out for them, even though he frequently opens the window and yells "Eat, blast you, eat!"

Wouldn't the simplest way to handle the dispute between the NCAA and the AAU as to who is to run our track program have been to let all the important officials race it out personally over a mile course?

PRISONERS FOR GUARDS

Prison Crippled By Fund Cutback

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Staff writer Sam Hanna did a story in 1958 on the Louisiana State Prison at Angola when the prison was recognized nationally as outstanding. Hanna re-visited Angola this week where he talked to prison officials. In the following dispatch, he reports the changes that he saw.)

By Sam Hanna
World Staff Writer

ANGOLA — Louisiana State Prison, once a model prison but now using armed inmate guards, has been crippled by a lack of funds, a Morning World inspection has disclosed here.

A $575,000 budget cut approved by the Legislature last July blocked progress at the sprawling, 18,000-acre prison in West Feliciana Parish during this fiscal year.

Located in a bend of the Mississippi River, Angola, cut off from society by a tough hill country, was a national disgrace in 1949, but underwent a rebuilding program, beginning in 1953, to become one of the nation's best.

FALLING BACK

But Angola, lacking sufficient operating capital, is falling back today, because the budget cut did this:

1. About 100 prison employes—most of them correctional officers — either resigned or were laid off, forcing Warden Victor Walker to use inmate guards. Escapes increased while two prison-

'Robber Proof' Vest, Hat Has Been Approved

LONDON (AP) — Tailor and cutter, the magazine which dictates male fashion trends, gave its O. K. Friday for elegance to a stainless steel vest designed to beat payroll robbers.

The vest is worn with a bowler hat lined with steel and foam rubber. The makers claim the outfit is proof against bullets, knives, blackjacks and all other such accessories.

The vest called here a waistcoat and pronounced weskit is made of steel mesh like medieval chainmale. Tailor and Cutter says:

"Outside the garment is cloth finished in discreet, stylish shades of brown, gray or check. Inside it as 16 pockets capacious enough to carry $140,000 in notes.

AMBITIOUS SPACE VOYAGE

Target Date Is Set For All-Day Flight

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—An April 2 target date was set Friday for launching U.S. astronaut Leroy Gordon Cooper Jr. on an ambitious space voyage that could keep him in orbit nearly a day and a half.

The 35-year-old Air Force major is scheduled to make at least 17 sweeps around the globe, and there is a good possibility he may go for 22 circuits—a 34-hour voyage.

In either event his planned flight would eclipse the U.S. record now held by astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr., who soared six times around earth last Oct. 3.

On a 22-orbit trip Cooper, like Schirra, would land somewhere in the Pacific Ocean near Midway Island. If successful, the flight probably will be the only one this year by a U.S. spaceman.

Informed sources said the April 2 launching date "looks pretty good right now" and that, while there may yet be slips, "we should come pretty close."

Scientists and engineers already have begun modifying the 2,500-pound Mercury capsule Cooper will ride. The changes include provisions for additional power, oxygen and water for the extended flight.

The astronaut himself already is in training for the mission. He spent several hours last week at Morehead Planetarium in Chapel Hill, N.C., reviewing star identification techniques and has been at the Cape conferring with engineers on the preparation of the capsule.

A fully successful flight by Cooper is expected to bring the $400 million Mercury project, America's first man-into-space program, to an end. The next step is to two-man flights aboard Gemini capsules.

The first unmanned Gemini flights, which the federal space agency once said would be as early as late 1962, have now slipped to 1964. Manned flights in that program, a key step in the nation's drive to land men on the moon this decade, won't begin until after the first trial shots.

Weather Takes Warmer Turn; Probable Rain

Winter seemed to be making a return to normalcy in northeast Louisiana Friday as the mercury rose above the freezing mark to a high of 37 degrees and more above-freezing temperatures are predicted today.

But along with the warmer readings came the inevitable rainfall. A slow, misty drizzle began late Friday night and was forecast to continue today.

Temperatures will probably seesaw up and down today. The high is expected to range between 40 and 50 degrees with the low tonight dropping to from 30 to 44 degrees.

The high of 37 in the Twin Cities was registered at 5 p.m. Friday with the low reading of 13 recorded a 3, 4 and 6 a.m.

The rain that began Friday night was expected to freeze but the freeze should end early today.

The prediction Sunday is for mostly cloudy skies and cold temperatures.

The rest of Louisiana will be generally cloudy today with scattered showers expected through Sunday. In the northwest portion it will turn colder tonight. The state high today is expected to be between 50 and 62 degrees.

BUT SO IS DEATH TOLL

Temperatures Rising

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rising temperatures took some of the sting out of the icy air across the nation Friday. But the slight relief failed to check the climbing death toll.

At least 132 deaths have been reported since the record-breaking cold enveloped the central section Tuesday and began to spread into the East and South.

The big freeze tightened a vise on inland waterways.

The Mississippi River froze tight at two points—just above Cairo, Ill., and just north of St. Louis. No boats from the lower river could push past the Cairo jam.

A 16-inch ice crust halted barge traffic on the Illinois River at the Starved Rock (Ill.) lock.

Floating and solid ice raised serious problems on the Ohio River. Engineers warned all boats from above Cincinnati to the river's mouth at Cairo to head for deep-water harbors.

Wind and blowing snow compounded winter miseries in some parts of Upstate New York, where the mercury ranged down to -21.

Six inches of newly fallen snow increased the total on the ground in Watertown, N.Y., to 51 inches. Drifts 6 to 8 feet deep clogged roads.

FEAR LEAVES

Cuban Refugees Give Reactions

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — "When I left Cuba, I felt scared about the future. But the fear left me when we reached Miami and saw all the people like us who are here."

This was the reaction of Roberto [illegible] Catrillo, [illegible], who arrived in the United States on Friday with 1,160 other refugees who rode the freighter Shirley Lykes to freedom from the Castro regime.

Catrillo, a former soldier in the army of ousted dictator Fulgencio Batista, said Russians are running all over Cuba, like lice on a mangy cow.

He was accompanied by his wife and two daughters and plans to continue on to New York, where he has friends and relatives.

"I have nobody here except a friend," said one woman refugee. "He was in Brigade 2506. We hope to be married."

At that moment, a young man in khaki uniform rushed out of the crowd, embraced her and they walked off together.

Many of the brigade were on hand, but they did not arrive as a unit. They mingled in the crowd, chatting and laughing. Some were reunited with relatives.

Vidal Morales said he was present recently when some relatives of the brigade members clashed with Castro militiamen in front of the Swiss Embassy, where they had lined up seeking permission to leave Cuba.

"Many of my fellow countrymen are ready to spill their guts if need be to liberate Cuba," Morales said.

A retired captain of the Cuban national army, who asked not to be identified because he has a son in prison, was reunited here with six other sons and 17 grandchildren.

One refugee, Dina Maria Casales Garcia, 68, said she had been subjected to taunts and insults from pro-Castro Cubans and even former friends because her son was one of the Bay of Pigs invaders.

"It is horrible in Cuba today," said Juan Alvaros, who came with his wife and 4-year-old daughter, both named Maria Lydia. Alvaros said he resigned his job as certified public accountant last July and had been waiting since then for permission to leave.

Dahlia Guerrero, 29, of Miami, cried out, then broke down and trembled uncontrollably when she saw her sister on the ship. The sister, Marta Guerrero, 34, had been in a Castro prison nearly three years until she was released four months ago because of a heart condition. Dahlia has lived in Miami the past six years.

Oscar C. Vicente, 53, of New York, had to be helped to a bench where he could sit after he saw his dead wife's sister appear at the ship's railing.

"I lost my wife two years ago," Vicente said. "I have had no one help me care for our little son, Oscar Jr., since that time. I did not know what I was going to do.

"But now my wife's sister is going to take the place of my wife and help me raise my son."

Alabama School Is Photographed By U.S. Planes

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Air Force reconnaissance wing that photographed Cuban missile sites took aerial pictures of the University of Alabama area last month, just in case they are needed.

The Justice Department and the Air Force both confirmed the missions Friday after the Montgomery, Ala., Advertiser reported the aerial photographs were made in anticipation of a possible integration showdown at the white university.

A Justice Department spokesman said the Air Force was asked to make the photographs for possible use in connection with any department activity "which might become necessary."

The Air Force, confirming the Justice Department request, said that on Dec. 28-30 the 363rd Tactical Air Command reconnaissance wing of Shaw Air Force Base, S.C., "performed training missions over several Southern cities" including Tuscaloosa, home of the University of Alabama.

"Copies of the photographs were furnished the Department of Justice," the Air Force statement said.

No mention was made of the university, nor was anything said about photographing any of the other Southern cities, none of which was identified.

Enlarged photographs of the University of Mississippi campus were understood to have been used when U.S. marshals and federal troops were called in last fall to put down disturbances during the enrollment of the first Negro student, James H. Meredith.

Those pictures, however, were said to have been old ones.

Three Negroes have applied for admission to the University of Alabama which has been under federal court order since 1956 to refrain from denying admission to any student because of race.

Gov. George Wallace has said he will defy any federal court integration order.

President Kennedy, during a visit to Florida last Nov. 26, hung "outstanding unit" streamers on the colors of the 363rd and the 4080th Strategic Reconnaissance Wing of Laughlin Air Force Base, Tex.

The President told the two units that their work in spotting Soviet missiles in Cuba had contributed as much to U.S. security as "any other units in history."

Rep. Armistead Selden, D-Ala., called the aerial reconnaissance of the university area ill advised and said he is making a formal protest to Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

COUNTRY MUSICIAN

Gov. Davis Gets Mansion Keys

BATON ROUGE (AP) —The keys to a mansion were given Friday to Gov. Jimmie H. Davis, the country music singer and writer who has lilted many a tune about such structures.

Davis has recorded at least five songs mentioning "Mansion," including one he wrote "To My Mansion In The Sky."

The other four include: "In My Father's House Are Many Mansions," "I Need No Mansion Here," "Mansion Over The Hilltop," and "When I Inherit My Mansion."

The new four-level executive mansion he and Mrs. Davis moved into has 40 rooms. This doesn't include 11 baths for the 12 bedrooms, four locker rooms for the help, and two semi-public restrooms.

James S. Reily, State Administration Commissioner, handed the keys, in a gold embossed case, ceremonially to the governor after Gov. and Mrs. Davis had spent one night in the mansion.

Reily told newsmen the overall cost was about $1 million.

The path to the new official residence was a rough one for Davis, his wife, Alvern, Reily, and Davis' legislative leaders.

Davis remarked, "President Kennedy is certainly welcome if he wants to come here," meaning Louisiana now has an official governor's residence fine enough for anyone.

He led battles against critics of lavish spending to get chunks of $700,000 and $300,000 to replace the mansion built 32 years ago by Kingfish Huey P. Long.

The manor still was cluttered from moving operations, but the beauty showed through.

The official view is that the mansion incorporates maximum traditional beauty found in Louisiana plantation days with the interior arranged so the governor can carry out his functions efficiently.

Oil Production In State Shows Substantial Hike

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The State Conservation Department reported Friday petroleum activities ran substantially higher in Louisiana during 1962 than in the year before.

Increases were reported in the number of drilling permits issued, well completions, producing oil wells and producing gas wells. There were no final figures available on production.

Drilling permits totaled 5,716, compared with 5,469 the year before.

December completions totaled and brought the year's total to 5,180 compared with 4,718 in 1961.

Of the 5,180, producers totaled 3,516 as against 3,203 a year ago, and included 2,681 oil wells, up from 2,404, and 835 gas wells, up from 799.

The new year began with about 300 rigs in operation, including 43 on wildcat locations.

Through november, the number of producing wells in the state was estimated at 33,714. This included 26,317 producing crude and 7,397 making natural gas.

Police Battle Rooftop Snipers In Venezuela

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Police battled scattered rooftop snipers again Friday as a four-day wave of bombings, car burnings and shootings continued in the Venezuelan capital and spread to other cities.

Police blame the terrorism on Communists and pro-Castro leftists who have been making a show of strength in connection with the fifth anniversary Wednesday of the overthrow of former dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez.

At least four, possibly five, persons have been reported killed and 60 wounded in the violence.

Two soldiers and one policeman have been killed and nine policemen wounded. More than 100 arrests have been made.

Snipers with telescopic sights fired on passing police cars from posts on slum neighborhood roofs. An army sergeant was killed as he sat by a window in his barracks.

Three policemen were burned by a Molotov cocktail tossed at their patrol car.

James Donovan Slated In Cuba

HAVANA (UPI) — New York attorney James B. Donovan, who negotiated the release of Cuban invasion prisoners with Fidel Castro, is scheduled to arrive here today, reliable sources said.

The reports indicated Donovan would seek the ransom release of American prisoners in Cuban jails, estimated at between 19 and 25 persons.

Donovan, an unsuccessful aspirant for the Senate from New York in last November's elections, also negotiated the U. S. swap of Soviet spy Col. Rudolf Abel for U2 pilot Gary Francis Powers.

(In New York, Donovan could not be immediately reached for comment).

White Student Who Befriended Meredith Quits

HAMILTON, Ont. (AP) — Sheldon Stock, a student who befriended James H. Meredith at the University of Mississippi, told his parents here Thursday night he is quitting the campus.

The 21-year-old Canadian told his father, Edward Stock, in a telephone conversation he had been the victim of reprisals by other students because of his friendship with the Negro.

He told his parents several soft drink bottles had been hurled through the transom into his room and an attempt was made to set fire to his door.

In Oxford, Miss., Stock said Thursday lighter fluid had been set afire under his door several times. University officials are investigating.

The elder Stock said his son, a freshman general arts student at Mississippi, probably will enroll at the University of Buffalo, N.Y.

Five Ouachita Men Get Posts

Five members of the Ouachita Parish Farm Bureau have been named to state - wide advisory committees of the Louisiana Farm Bureau Federation.

Joe H. Dixon, president of the parish Farm Bureau, said the five include Fred Huenefeld Jr., cotton; Lloyd Coon, dairy; Eldon Arnold, fruits and vegetables; T. W. Humphries, livestock; and Drew Anderson, grains.

These special committees advise the state board of directors on all issues affecting their crops or commodities, and also serve as coordinators of programs recommended by the voting delegates of the Farm Bureau.

Farm Bureau Sets Parish Election

New officers to head the Ouachita Parish Farm Bureau during 1963 will be elected Feb. 7 at a meeting at 7 p.m. in the agriculture building in West Monroe.

Outgoing officers are Joe Dixon, president; Lester Avant, vice-president; John Filhiol, secretary; and Wayne McDonald, treasurer.

BULGARIAN MEETS TITO

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (UPI) — Bulgarian Communist Party chief Todor Zhivkov arived here Friday for a "brief stay" on his way home from the East Berlin Communist Congress, the Yugoslav news agency Tanjug said. Tanjug said Zhivkov will meet with President Tito.

IN FOREIGN AID

Passman Charges 'Misrepresentation'

WASHINGTON (Special)—Rep. Otto Passman asserted Friday the U. S. foreign aid agency has resorted to "calculated misrepresentation" in reporting volume of procurement for overseas spending programs produced in the U.S.

Passman, chairman of the House Foreign Aid Appropriations Subcommittee, said the Agency for International Development neglects to explain that "invoices for these orders are sent to the U. S. treasurer for payment out of the taxpayers' till, and not to the recipients of our generosity."

"If this is the way to create prosperity in our country," he suggested, "then perhaps we ought to double or triple the aid program and thereby double or triple our prosperity.

"One of the myths presented to ated for foreign aid are spent in the United States.

"The fact is that 100 per cent of the dollars appropriated for the foreign aid program ultimately will have an effect on the U. S. economy — for the payment for goods and services shipped free of charge to foreign countries, for the American taxpayer in attempted justification of the foreign aid program is the dollars appropri- the purchase of U. S. goods by foreign nations as a result of the free dollars that we have credited to them, or for speculation.

"But, if 80 per cent of the foreign aid dollar is spent in the United States and this expenditure is beneficial to our economy —and one disregards the fact that the expenditure is paid by the U. S. Treasury from our own taxpayers' funds, and not by the recipient nations, would there be more prosperity in our country if the expenditures for the program were doubled or tripled? The answer is, of course, that our resources would soon be depleted, and when this had happened our false prosperity would be at an abrupt end and we would be a bankrupt nation.

Cuban Comic Was Arrested During Sketch

PORT EVERGLADES, Fla., (UPI) — A Cuban comic who arrived here on the freighter Shirley Lykes Friday told how he was arrested six months ago when Castro militiamen became irked by his performance.

Leopoldo Fernandez, known as "Pototo," said he was doing a comedy sketch in Havana's National Theater. In the sketch, he said, he and workmen were hanging pictures of Cuban leaders on a wall.

Workmen brought in a portrait of former Cuban dictator Fulgencio Batista, and he said "throw that one in the garbage."

When they brought in a picture of another former Cuban leader, he said, "put that one over there."

A picture of Fidel Castro was then brought in, and Fernandez said "I'll hang that one myself."

He said as soon as he finished the line, militiamen jumped on the stage and dragged him off to jail.

4 Negro Houses At Ferriday Burn

FERRIDAY (Special) — Four houses in a Negro residential area were destroyed by fire here Friday around 3 p.m., bringing the total to 14 homes in the same vicinity which have been razed by fires since Dec. 23.

Ferriday Fire Chief N. A. Moulle estimated damages in Friday's fires at between $10,000 and $12,000.

Moulle said the fire started in one of the houses where the occupants were away from home at the time, and a strong south wind spread the flames to three other houses.

Five Negro houses were destroyed by fire Dec. 23, and three others on Jan. 13.

PRISONS ARE LONELY, as this scene at Angola portrays. Henry Dufour, director of classifications at Angola, (left) guides visiting reporter for a first-hand view of conditions at the Louisiana State Prison. This is the walkway outside the Angola dining hall where a stench of sewerage was strong caused by underground pipe in need of repair. But the prison has been unable to make needed repairs because of a cutback in budget funds by the Legislature. (Staff Photo by Robert Ewing III)

ANGOLA WARDEN Victor Walker (left) tells Morning World staff writer Sam Hanna that Angola officials can do a better job if it is granted a requested budget increase. The prison's budget was cut $575,000 this fiscal year by the Legislature, resulting in serious problems for the Louisiana State Prison. Angola is requesting $3,240,797 for the next fiscal year, which would almost recapture the budget funds chopped by the Legislature. (Staff Photo by Robert Ewing III)

Proposed JFK Tax Slash Is Called Delusion

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The head of the National Association of Real Estate Boards said Friday that President Kennedy's proposed tax cut is a "delusion" — a tax cut that will be offset by tax adjustments.

As an example, said Arthur P. Wilcox of Boston, an adjustment may mean a decrease in the amount a home owner is allowed to deduct on mortgage payments.

He said this would have the effect of discouraging home ownership.

Wilcox made his remarks in an interview while here to attend the mid-winter meeting of the association.

Instead of a tax reduction, Wilcox said, the President should call his plan tax reform.

"Let's sell the merchandise on what it is," he said. "Let's not kid people along with the idea that they're going to get something for nothing."

ISLAND ROCKED

MANILA (AP)—An earthquake rocked Surigao Province of Mindanao Island Friday. The Philippine news service said the quake lasted 45 seconds, and was followed by two aftershocks. No casualties were reported.

3 Bastrop Men Charged In Theft

BASTROP (Special) — Three Bastrop men were arrested by police here Friday and charged with theft. Identified by police as Tommy Allen Taylor, 25, Jimmie Boyer, 22, and Joseph Gaspard, 32, they were charged with stealing tires from parked vehicles in the downtown area of Bastrop Monday night.

The men were turned over to the sheriff's department where Taylor and Boyer later posted bonds. According to Sheriff E. L. Hinton, Gaspard has a past record and bond has not been posted for him. The sheriff said that to his knowledge the other two men had no previous police records.

Railroad Ties Reported Taken

Officials of the Illinois Central Railroad Friday noted the taking of the railroad ties from track beds in loading areas in west and south Ouachita Parish, southeast Jackson Parish and Winn Parish. They asked that persons responsible discontinue the practice.

Track Supervisor B. A. Pounders said residents evidently believe they are taking ties removed from railroads beds, while actually the materials have been brought into the areas to install.

The railroad is reworking the track from West Monroe to Winnfield, he said, and the ties, most of them previously used, are for reuse, not for sale.

Prison Crippled By Fund Shortage

ers were shot to death last November by an inmate guard.

2. Two positions in the prison's education program were vacated; qualified instructors were lost. Angola has an education director whose only assistance is provided by inmate instructors attempting to teach everything from reading and writing to vocational crafts to prisoners.

3. Maintenance of the prison has suffered noticeably. Facilities are deteriorating as needed repairs go undone because of the money shortage. Angola, for instance, can't afford wax for the floors or tires for its vehicles.

But controlling the prison masses with a minimum of officers is the prison's most serious problem — as brought out here last Tuesday night when a Negro prisoner was stabbed to death by another Negro prisoner in a fight with a homemade knife.

Less supervision over the prisoners resulted when the budget cut forced the reduction in the number of officers.

With a prison population of 3711, Angola has 253 employes — or almost 13 prisoners per employe. Last year, before the legislature chopped the funds, it was about 10 prisoners per employe while the national average is about five to one.

One guard is now responsible for two dormitories at night — one guard over 480 prisoners. Before the budget cut, there was one guard per dormitory.

Homosexuality is a problem at all prisons. Angola, where the average age of prisoners is about 24, is no exception.

ESCAPES INCREASE

With the prison properly guarded last year with correctional officers and a minimum of inmate guards, there were only 17 escape cases.

But this year, with a reduction in officers and a heavy increase in inmate guards, escape cases reached the 17 mark during the first six months of the fiscal year under the budget cut.

Two Negro prisoners were killed by an armed inmate guard on a work detail in the field.

While the budget cut most affected the prison in its control over prisoners, the fiscal reduction has stopped proper maintenance of the Angola facilities.

A reduction in the number of maintenance employes followed the budget cut. Sufficient funds are not available to keep the prison up.

Buildings at the prison are in obvious need of interior painting and repair. A visitor can easily smell a stench of sewerage outside the prison dining hall caused by underground pipes in need of attention.

Across from the dining hall, a row of vehicles is idle, awaiting repair. Blacktop streets are tearing up.

The Legislature — at Gov. Jimmie H. Davis' request to cut state spending after last year's $73-million deficit — reduced Angola's budget from $3,272,541 to $2,697,541. This also includes the financing of the women's prison at St. Gabriel south of Baton Rouge.

While operating funds were cut by over a half-million dollars, the State Bond and Building Commission — under Davis' direction— appropriated about $800,000 for a new prison hospital, which was badly needed.

PRISON DOCTOR

The hospital is under construction, but Angola hasn't had a prison doctor in 14 months because a qualified man couldn't be located. Dr. T. H. Gahran, a former House member from Jena, will assume the prison's physician duties within the next several days.

Meantime, demands on the prison increase. Last year the average prisoner population was 3545. This fiscal year the population average increased to 3611, but this week's figure was higher — 3711.

And next year's anticipated average is 3625.

In comparison, the number of prison employes prior to the budget cut was 363 — down now to 253.

But the budget reduction also hurt other aspects of the prison operation. Walker no longer has an associate warden to assist him.

More serious than this, however, is the need of qualified instructors to work in the prison's education program.

Almost 40 per cent of the prisoners have less than a fifth grade education. Set back by the loss of instructors, Angola officials call on prisoners with some educational background to instruct the illiterates.

Hoping that the loss of operating capital can be recaptured, Angola will request a new budget for next fiscal year of $3,240,797 —almost as much as the budget prior to the cut last year.

This request must be approved by the new legislative budget committee before it reaches the legislature at the May fiscal session.

Walker said, "If we can be appropriated the amount of money that we have requested for next year, we can do a much better job in all areas."

N. Y. City Mayor Takes Personal Hand In Strike

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mayor Robert Wagner took a personal hand Friday in talks to end the 49-day-old New York newspaper strike. He said he would try to keep "negotiations continuing" between publishers and striking printers until an agreement is reached.

The announcement came as the printers and publishers failed to make progress toward a settlement of the strike in joint session with federal mediators and broke off their talks indefinitely.

Wagner said that he had cancelled all of his appointments from Saturday on so that he could handle the mediation personally.

Wagner made the announcement after a meeting with the Citizens Newspaper Committee—a private group formed to try to help bring about a quick solution in the dispute that has idled 20,000 newspaper employed and closed nine metropolitan newspapers.

Wagner said that he did not know how much success he would have.

"No one can predict . . . but I'm always an optimist," he said. "I'm going to work hard at it."

The talks with federal mediators broke off Friday after three days.

Amory Bradford, chairman of the Publishers Association of New York City, said both sides held firm to their positions.

"The extraordinary thing to me is that it looks exactly the same.. each of the 49 days since the strike started," Bradford said.

"We stated very strongly our reasons for holding our offer. It is not simply a question of stubbornness on our part or any attempt to punish the union in any way. It represents the limit we feel we can go to and still have each of these papers continue publishing."

Strike leader Bertram Powers, president of Local 6 of the International Typographical Union (ITU), said the strike would continue until the publishers make a better offer.

Seven Negroes Registered At Tulane School

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) —Seven Negroes registered peaceably Friday in Tulane University, a private institution with an unbroken, 129-year record of exclusive white attendance.

Tulane's board of administrators in mid-December voluntarily opened the doors of the university to Negro undergraduate and graduate students.

The seven who registered Friday are all graduate students. They are on the faculty of New Orleans. Southern is the state university for Negroes. Its main campus is at Baton Rouge.

The routine registration of the Negroes at Tulane contrasted markedly with desegregation of other schools in New Orleans. There was a year of violence and boycott at two public elementary schools integrated in 1960.

Archbishop Joseph Francis Rummel excommunicated three Catholic segregation leaders last September for opposing desegregation of parochial schools in the New Orleans diocese.

Tulane's board promised to desegregate the university in 1961, if it could be done legally. When Paul Tulane endowed the school, he stipulated that it must be attended by white students only.

In 1884, a state law was passed that limited attendance at Tulane to whites.

Mrs. Pearlie Elloie and Barbara Guillory, after the board's promise to desegregate, sued in federal district court for admission to Tulane.

Judge J. Skelly Wright — since promoted to the U. S. Court of Appeals in Washington, D.C.— ordered Tulane desegregated.

He said that Tulane had accepted enough tax benefits to qualify as a public institution and was liable for desegregation under the 14th Amendment.

Wright also suggested that Tulane wanted to be desegregated because it was losing important grants from foundations that refuse to give money to segregated institutions.

Wright's ruling failed to satisfy Tulane. The university asked Wright's successor, Frank Ellis, for a rehearing.

Ellis struck down the law forbidding Tulane to admit Negroes. But at the same time he ruled Tulane was a private institution and did not have to admit Negroes though it could do so voluntarily.

The next week, the board voluntarily admitted Negroes.

Mrs. Elloie, Addison Carey, Gloria Ann Adams, Percell Church, Elmore de Grange, Willene Pulliam and George Washington Parker were the Negroes who registered Friday.

Davis Names New Member To Board

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Gov. Jimmie H. Davis said Friday he named Harry X. Kelly to the Board of Commissioners of the Port of New Orleans.

Kelly, active in international trade at New Orleans since 1919, replaced Robert E. Elliott, whose term expired.

Kelly is director of customer relations for Mississippi Shipping Co. at New Orleans, and has been active in numerous civic and service organizations.

Conservative Meeting Is Held At Winnsboro

WINNSBORO (Special) — A large group of Franklin Parish citizens attended a twin - bill speaking at the American Legion hall here Friday night. Speakers were Kent Courtney of New Orleans and O. N. Hamilton of Oak Grove.

Courtney is chairman of the Conservative Society of America and presented a plan for getting the Conservative Party on the ballot.

Several voters indicated that they would change their registration to Conservative.

Courtney explained that either Democrats or Republicans could change.

Hamilton, an Oak Grove attorney, is a director of the Louisiana Governmental Assn., Inc. The group was organized last summer with Phil A. St. Amant as president. St. Amant, of Baton Rouge, unsuccessfully ran for the U. S. Senate last year against Sen. Russell B. Long.

Hamilton said that it is a state - wide organization and that the Winnsboro meeting was the first in the Fifth District. Other meetings, he said, are being held throughout the state.

Goal of the group is to have 10,000 members by next election, Hamilton said. He said that the organization was designed to make "the voice of the average conservative felt in elections and in government."

"The conservatives of the nation, or even of the South, can form the largest single bloc vote in history."

Bare-Knuckled Arbitration

Another example of the fact that government "arbitration" in a strike under the New Frontier administration merely means the government's saying to industry, "Either you give the union what it wants or we will lay you flatter than a flapjack," is found in the settlement of the East-Gulf Coast longshoremen's strike.

The National Association of Manufacturers said it viewed the settlement with foreboding and called it "a bare - knuckled display of government power unsanctioned by law." The method of forcing the settlement was seen as another authoritarian move by the federal government "which could lead to the determination of wages, working conditions and prices by executive action."

An editorial in N.A.M. News said in part:

"The public interest, of course, required that the strike be settled. But the way to end it was not by a bare-knuckled display of government power unsanctioned by law.

"The way to end it was to deal with the cause. And the cause—as in the case of other strikes which the public interest cannot tolerate—is unbridled union monopoly power which permits a stubborn and determined union leadership to exact almost anything it wants regardless of the effect on the economy and the national interest.

"With the prospect of serious disputes in a number of key industries this year, such as communications, electrical equipment and railroads, it is impossible to view the extra-legal actions of the government without foreboding.

"The federal government is progressing, in a series of increasingly authoritarian moves, to the point where wages and working conditions and, as a necessary corollary, prices may be determined by executive action.

"Starting with the intervention by then Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg in airline and tugboat strikes in the first year of the Kennedy administration and in the steel negotiations last year, federal activity in this field has progressed through the effort to establish the union shop in the aerospace industry through the setting up of a special panel by the administration, to the direct imposition of a settlement of the longshore strike by a board headed by Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon.

"The board headed by Senator Morse made no effort to conceal the character of the club it intended to wield on the union and management alike and that it was empowered by the president to wield. The senator made it plain that his proposition was being offered on an 'or else' basis and he warned both parties that 'they could make no greater mistake than to take the false assumption that they could do better by taking their final chance in the halls of congress.'

"The settlement proposal, of course, was heavily weighted on the union's side. The 'package' was 17 cents more than the industry had offered, and 11 cents less than the union was asking. Nothing was done about featherbedding on the docks and this controversial issue was left to a Labor Department study. Meanwhile, the costly featherbedding goes on and most likely will go on for another year and a half.

"The senator's attitude, which presumably is the 'new look' in labor-management relations as seen by the administration, was succinctly expressed in a news conference held Monday in Washington and filmed for television. Senator Morse said: 'This proposal that I read at this joint meeting, and I announced that both parties had to be there, and that the proposal was not subject to discussion; the time for discussion had ended. We had no intention of arguing the proposal with them, and we had no intention of defending any section of this proposal with them. But I said I want both sides to clearly understand that if you make it necessary for us to defend this proposal after we leave New York, we shall defend it to the hilt in Washington, D.C., and so we shall.' "

If there was ever a statement which dripped with lush arrogance that by Senator Morse was surely it. He had the unmitigated affrontery to assume that the committee, armed with no authority from congress, could hand down an arbitrary decision in which neither side had an opportunity to present its views. This was a deliberate insult both to the shippers and to the unions.

Of course, as N.A.M. pointed out, the arbitrary decision was so heavily weighted in favor of the unions that there was scant likelihood that they would object. Morse knew as well as anyone else that he could not get by with making a fair decision under the present government attitude toward unionism. He knew the union would not stand for it and that the New Frontier administration would not stand for offending the union.

We have reached a point at which it appears the Kennedy administration is determined to compel industry to surrender to the unions its right to make money. When that happens, as everyone knows, private industry will be as dead as a dodo. That, apparently, is the sole aim and objective of the Kennedy administration. That, of course, is the only way in which it can substitute government ownership of all industry for private ownership.

President Kennedy is said to be sponsoring in the new congress a plan for government settlement of strikes. That means he wants congress to authorize him to take the arbitrary action which he has already taken without authorization. It does not mean that he wants to tighten laws against allowing unions to strike. It means he wants to tighten laws against allowing industry to resist strikes.

If the government would repeal its laws requiring compulsory unionism and would cooperate with industry in operating without union labor when the unions unjustly go on strike there would be no need for government arbitration or orders to end the strikes. The greatest cause of strikes today is government pampering of unions. Without taking away from unions their right to strike, the government could easily make it just as hard on them to strike without justification as it now makes it on industry to resist a strike.

In the labor situation as it now exists in this country, industry is least to blame for strikes, union labor is next and the federal government is most to blame. We should lay the blame for strikes where it belongs — squarely on the head of a government which requires unionism by law and helps the unions in their fight to bring industry to its knees.

Again we must say, as we have said before, that when free enterprise is lost, labor's cause will be buried at the same funeral. Under socialism, people, whether union or not, work for the government and the government's will is law — indisputable.

500,000 Space Jobs

It has been predicted that before the end of this century more people will be employed in space exploration and development work than are now engaged in work in the automobile industry. This seems fantastic but the number who will be engaged in space work this year may make us less doubtful.

According to official figures, space industry business will exceed $5 billion this fiscal year and will provide half a million jobs.

Of the federal government's space budget of $5.5 billion, 85 per cent will go to 500 prime contractors and some 8,000 subcontractors. Universities, non - profit institutions and government facilities will get the remaining 15 per cent. In addition, private firms are expected to spend $500 million on space research and development.

Meredith Getting Payoff

Negro At Mississippi University Will Cash In By Receiving Large Sum For Rights To Book

James Meredith is undertaking to cash in on his hectic experience at the University of Mississippi.

The first Negro student at Ole Miss has signed a contract with a leading New York publisher for a book to be released in the spring. Under the agreement, Meredith is to be provided with "professional assistance" (ghost-writer) in preparing the manuscript.

Sources connected with the publisher indicate Meredith has received $10,000 advance payment.

A condensed version of the book is to be published in a national magazine. Also, Meredith is endeavoring to sell his story to a movie producer either in the U.S. or abroad.

Friends intimate he would like to be cast in the leading role.

Attorney General Robert Kennedy has been apprized of this latest development and isn't happy about it.

Justice Department aides say he feels the Negro student's impending withdrawal from Ole Miss and money - making publishing venture are a dismal conclusion to the effort, that cost two lives, a number injured and hundreds of thousands of dollars, to enter him in the University and protect him there.

Meredith and his wife are considering going abroad this summer, apparently to Africa. Inquiries regarding passports and other requirements have been made on their behalf at the State Department.

SENATORIAL CRACKDOWN — A well - known syndicated columnist, a film supervisor of a TV network, and an author have been subpoenaed by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee for questioning in its forthcoming investigation of foreign lobbyists.

At least six attorneys, most of them in Washington, also have been subpoenaed for grilling.

Primary purpose in summoning the columnist, film supervisor and author is to air foreign propaganda operations in the U. S. The columnist will be interrogated about his activities in behalf of the late Dominican Dictator Rafael Trujillo; the film supervisor concerning his "planting" of foreign propaganda movies in U. S. theaters and on TV networks, and the author on an effusive biography of a one-time government head who subsequently was forced to flee his country.

Senator J. William Fulbright, chairman, also plans to probe Soviet propaganda operations. In this phase a prominent New York book store is to be put on the griddle.

The investigators have ascertained this store gets a high commission on all Russian publications, and half its advertising costs are paid by the latter.

Hearings are slated to get underway early in February.

IN NAPOLEON'S FOOTSTEPS — General de Gaulle is apparently deadly serious about following in the footsteps of General Napoleon Bonaparte.

Like the latter, who began his imperial career by invading Egypt De Gaulle is planning a modern-day "invasion" of Africa. It is to be in the form of an extensive goodwill tour of a number of African countries, most of them former French colonies.

De Gaulle will be accompanied by Culture Minister Andre Malraux, and their trip will be preceded by a massive propaganda drive that will stress French desire to supply economic, military and technical aid. This policy is aimed directly at the U. S. which has been in the forefront in providing such assistance.

Assistant Secretary of State G. Mennen Williams, former Michigan governor, has specialized in African aid. A major purpose of De Gaulle's tour is to counter Williams' activities.

The contemplated junket also is another instance of the French President's militant policy of trying to undermine U. S. and British dominance in strategic areas. He is now openly fighting them in Europe on entrance to the Common Market, and it is De Gaulle's intention to extend this deepening conflict to Africa, where France was a leading power prior to World War II.

POLITICALS — Former Vice President Nixon has signed up to appear on a nationwide TV show in March . . . The Kennedys aren't the only ones in Massachusetts who believe in keeping everything in the family. It seems to be a general practice there. John Powers, head of the state senate, has named his brother Richard to a $7,000-a-year job as a doorkeeper of the chamber. When Powers was asked why he engaged in this bald nepotism, he explained,"Dick was about to be laid off from his railroad work and if I didn't take care of him, who would?" Obviously, the answer is — the taxpayers .

LEFT HANDED COMPLEMENT — Sen. Kenneth Keating, Rep.-N.Y., was commenting on some of his mail. Most of it is friendly. This one, though, was the exception. He received a post-card declaring in big red letters, "One Eisenhower in a decade is enough. One Keating in a generation is too much!" Keating, nonplussed, commented, "The postcard doesn't tell me why I'm so superfluous, but I want to thank the writer for putting me in such good company."

DR. PETER J. STEINCROHN

Mother's Drugs

Woman With Six Children Against 'Lollipop' Tranquilizers

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: What's the matter with young mothers nowadays? Must they take drugs as soon as they feel a bit of discomfort during pregnancy? Aren't you doctors to blame for giving in to them, prescribing "lollipop" medicine to tranquilize them? You're only helping them to lose their courage, not to give nature a chance to take its course.

Pregnancy is as natural as sex itself. Without drugs (except, of course, where there is organic or other trouble) the uncomfortable first period of pregnancy will pass. And then comes the thrill of that first flutter of life under the heart, all the way through the agony of birth, which most mothers forget almost as soon as it's over.

Dr. Steincrohn, I wish doctors would teach their patients how to relax, not to worry when sleep won't come easily, find the right thing to occupy the mind or hands until sleep comes. To face up to pregnancy with common sense so the backbone won't turn into a jelly-bone.

Nursing a baby? Oh no, that's nasty! So what is sex? Both can be a wonderful blending of heaven and earth, which I believe God intended. — Mrs. J. (Mother of six, without drugs. Present age 81).

Comment: There you have it from one who has been on the firing line, and can look back with the perspective of one who has reached 81.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I am 27, married, no children. A year ago I had a complete hysterectomy. Since then I have been having flashes, very severe at times. Is there something I can take to prevent these flashes? My doctor hasn't prescribed any medicine. — Mrs. M.

Comment: Some doctors do not believe in prescribing hormones after a hysterectomy; but I think that most do. I have never been able to understand why there should be any question about using such treatment. Why let a woman go along in discomfort for many years when a hormone pill or two a day often help so much? If your doctor still insists he will not use hormones in your case, perhaps consultation with some other recognized gynecologist or obstetrician will influence him to give hormones a try.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: How does one handle a neurotic parent who will never give in because the parent believes he is always right? He won't ever go half-way in any difference of opinion. — Miss X.

Comment: The world is full of unhappy neurotics (both parents and children). Sometimes the labels get pasted in the wrong places. A child calls a parent neurotic; a parent calls the child neurotic. It's all a personal point of view. I guess the only way to settle the problem of who is right and who is wrong is to let the family doctor act as judge. If you want a higher court, you will probably have to take it to a psychiatrist.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: My husband had an ulcer operation a year ago. Six months ago he began smoking a pipe after having given up smoking for some time. If you were his doctor, would you tell him to quit? — Mrs. W.

Comment: That would depend. How much does he smoke? Does he feel worse or better? There are many factors. In general, however, I think the answer would be "no smoking" for most ulcer patients.

Dr. Steincrohn's leaflet, "How To Overcome Tension and Fatigue," will be mailed to you on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents in coin for handling. Address your request to Dr. Steincrohn, in care of this newspaper.

Today is Saturday, Jan. 26, the 26th day of 1963 with 339 to follow.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning stars are Venus and Mars.

The evening stars are Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

Those born on this day include Gen. Douglas MacArthur, in 1880.

On this day in history:

In 1815, the library of Thomas Jefferson was purchased for the beginning of the Library of Congress.

In 1837, Michigan joined the Union as the 26th state.

In 1861, Louisiana seceded from the Union.

In 1945, a syndicate—headed by Larry McPhail and Dan Topping—bought the New York Yankees baseball team for $3 million.

A thought for the day—The journalist, H. L. Mencken, once said: "It is the dull man who is always sure, and the sure man who is always dull."

Our Gas Supply

Industry Using More But Reserves Good Two Generations

Despite the fact that U.S. homes now use 39,000,000 gas ranges, 15,000,000 gas central heating systems 34,000,000 gas room heaters, 25,000,000 gas water heaters, 4,000,000 gas clothes dryers and millions of gas refrigerators, incinerators and lamps, less than half of the 10.364 billion cubic feet of natural gas sold in 1963 will be consumed in residential uses. A larger share will go to industrial customers for use in heat-treating and processing nearly every type of consumer goods.

What impact does this dual demand by homes and industries have on the supply, price and control of natural gas? Here are some straight answers to questions about the natural gas industry from gas industry pioneer William C. Maguire, chairman and president of Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co., which operates close to 10,000 miles of transmission line supplying a market area of 17,000,000 people in 12 midwestern states.

Porter: How much of a gas reserve is there in the U. S.?

Maguire: Best estimates are that today's proved reserves are 268 trillion cubic feet, enough to last more than a quarter century and, despite a tremendous increase in gas use, greater reserves are discovered each year than the volume of consumption.

We know we can meet the requirements of this generation and the next.

Porter: Clearly, we need not worry about the outlook for gas supplies. But isn't there something unbalanced about a relationship in which more than half of each year's gas sales goes to industry?

Maguire: No. Industrial sales help the gas industry level out the demand load around the calendar and by absorbing a share of the fixed costs of operating transmission lines they actually help bring down the cost of gas to the household consumer. While there are huge unexplored reserves of natural gas throughout the world, in most countries where gas is known to exist the public can't buy it, because there isn't enough industrial use to justify exploration transmission and distribution of the fuel. Industrial sales are as important to the residential consumer as to the gas industry.

Porter: What bearing do depletion allowances have on the cost of gas?

Maguire: "Depletion" is nothing more than recognition of the enormous risks involved in the extraction industries — gas, oil, copper, iron, coal, etc. One recent dry hole drilled by an oil company cost about $5 million. The depletion allowance provides the incentive to risk investment of that magnitude to find and market the fuel and minerals our economy requires.

With depletion allowances in effect — they were first enacted by Congress nearly 50 years ago — the cost of gas has remained remarkably stable for years. Retail gas prices have very little influence on the cost of living index.

Porter: What is the outlook for natural gas prices?

Maguire: A period of relative price stability is in prospect for our industry, but of course, rates and revenues relate to the forces of competition even in a regulated industry. Important too is the attitude of the Federal Power Commission and state regulatory agencies in recognizing all elements that influence rates. Fortunately, the present FPC has taken some vigorous steps to clear out bureaucratic cobwebs that have hampered regulatory actions for years and have been costly not only to the industry but also to the consumer.

Porter: What new concepts in the use of gas do you foresee as likely to have the greatest effect on the gas industry's future?

Maguire: All the answers to this question are exciting and very much in the cards for the immediate future.

The likeliest are: universal adoption of gas air conditioning; use of natural gas turbines for on-site generation of electrical energy; a considerable expansion of gas utilization for industrial processing; and the working of more and greater miracles by the petrochemical industry which uses hydrocarbons extracted from natural gas as raw material for new products.

More U.S. Jobs

Louisiana Gains 1,958 Federal Workers In Kennedy Regime

Louisiana gained 1,958 federal employes during the first two years of the Kennedy Administration, and probably would get an even bigger chunk of Uncle Sam's payroll if the President's request for 36,492 new federal jobs is approved by Congress.

In December 1960, the last month of the Eisenhower Administration, civilian workers in all federal jobs, both in the United States and in foreign lands, totaled 2,372,580. By September 30 of last year, when the latest state-by - state count was made by the Civil Service Commission, the total had risen to 2,503,018 — an increase of 130,438.

During the same two - year period, the number of federal employees in Louisiana rose from 22,878 to 24,836.

The latest overall count of federal civilian workers was taken last November when the total stood at 2,515,870. President Kennedy has estimated that the figure will reach 2,534,041 by June 30, and a year from that date (the end of fiscal year 1964) will approximate 2,570,000. This will be an increase of more than 85,000 from June 1962, when the number of jobs in all areas was 2,484,654.

Meanwhile, the annual federal civilian payroll is expected to increase from $14.1 billion last June 30, to an estimated $15 billion by June of this year, and reach a record $15.6 billion by the close of fiscal year 1964.

Of the new jobs requested by President Kennedy, the Post Office Department would receive the largest single increase — 9,650 additional employees to handle an estimated 3½ per cent boost in mail volume. This would bring its total to 608,259 employees by June 30, 1964.

The heaviest single reduction would be in the civilian staff of the Defense Department, for which a cut of 10,146 jobs has been proposed, reducing the total to 1,019,111. The Air Force would receive the biggest cut, losing some 7,000 jobs.

Other proposed changes in federal jobs follow:

Agriculture, 116,268 to 121,583; Commerce, 32,802 to 36,299; Health, Education and Welfare, 83,306 to 89,237; Interior, 70,721 to 74,720; Justice, 32,607 to 33,372; Labor 9,620 to 10,913; State, 24,633 to 25,368; Treasury, 87,494 to 91,643; Atomic Energy, 7,152 to 7,330; Peace Corps, 1,051 to 1,251; Federal Aviation, 48,040 to 48,666; General Services Administration, 34,349 to 37,557; Housing and Home Finance, 14,235 to 15,037; National Aeronautics and Space, 29,147 to 33,100; Veterans Administration, 176,881 to 177,290; U. S. Information Agency, 11,838 to 12,524; Tennessee Valley Authority 17,962 to 17,554; and a slight increase from 39,200 to 40,524 for all other agencies.

WEAPONS OF ART—France's decision to develop a nuclear power of its own was not lost on President Kennedy when a more delightful French subject was the issue at hand. At the unveiling of the famed Mona Lisa at the National Gallery of Art, Mr. Kennedy commented, "We in the United States are grateful for this loan from the leading artistic power in the world, France. In view of the recent meeting at Nassau, I must note further that this painting has been kept under careful French control, and that France has even sent along its own commander - in - chief, M. Malraux (French minister of cultural affairs). And I want to make it clear that grateful as we are for this painting, we will continue to press ahead with the effort to develop an independent artistic force and power of our own." Malraux replied, "That the possession of masterpieces, today, imposes great responsibilities, everyone knows. You chose, Mr. President, to speak of an 'historic loan,' thinking perhaps of the sentiments to which it bears witness. It is historic, too, in another sense, which does you great honor. When, upon my return to France, some peevish spirits will ask me, on the rostrum, 'Why was the Mona Lisa lent to the United States?' I shall answer: "Because no other nation would have received her like the United States.' "

HONEST APPROACH — During his successful campaign for Congress in Tennessee's strongly Democratic third district, Republican Rep. Bill Brock of Chattanooga approached two men in a suburban store on the outskirts of the city, introduced himself and solicited their votes. "What are you going to do for me if I vote for you?" one of the men inquired. "I'm not going to do anything for you," came the candid candidate's reply. The frankness paid off. Obviously startled by such utter forthrightness the man said, "Let me shake your hand. You're the first honest politician I ever met. You can count on my vote."

35-HOUR WORK WEEK?

Labor Officials Disagree Over Unemployment

BOSTON (AP) — Labor leader George Meany says the nation must find a solution to the automation he blames for the unemployment problem and maintains the 35-hour work week is the answer.

But he drew a rebuff from Labor Secretary W. Wilard Wirtz who claimed that unions are too rigid in their defense against change.

The two, along with others interested in the union picture, discussed the problem Friday in a show, taped for presentation over educational station WGBH-TV in Boston Monday night with simultaneous showings in New York, Washington and other cities.

Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, conceded his group favors methods of improving production.

"But this improvement that's come in the last ten years has resulted in more and more people being permanently unemployed because we're making more and more products with less and less labor all the time."

But he admitted he does not believe 'there's any pat answer to the question of automation, to the results of automation and its impact upon the worker.

"I think every single industry has got to attack this problem, from their own peculiar point of view," he said. 'I don't think you can write a formula."

Wirtz said he also believes "the root difficulty is the replacement of men by machines, the difficulty of men finding new jobs, that result in hanging onto a job sometimes long after it should be hung onto."

The nation, Wirtz added, has to "take care of the displacement, the manpower, the human aspects of automation" if new processes are to work.

"If we don't, then we're going have increasingly serious and difficult strikes," he said.

"We've got to automate, we've got to take advantage of technological improvement," Wirtz said, "but we've also got to see that we do it on some basis which doesn't mean throwing a lot of people onto the rubbish heap."

But Wirtz had a word of chastizement for the unions.

"I think we ought to recognize that we're—all of us—falling a little short of meeting the demands of change right now," he said. "I believe there's that realization in the unions."

Meany contended the 35-hour work week could solve the problem. He noted the nation's present unemployment of 5.8 per cent and said the steel industry's output last year was 10 per cent over 1961 with 10 per cent fewer employes.

But he admitted the 35-hour week "would undoubtedly push up costs" but not to the extent many believe.

"We're asking for a shorter work week," Meany said, "solely on the basis of meeting the unemployment problem." More leisure or workers' incapacity to work longer hours, he said, has nothing to do with the demand.

Research Director Solomon Barkin of the Textile Workers Union and Economics Prof. John T. Dunlop also took part in the discussion. A. H. Raskin, a member of the New York Times editorial board, was the program's moderator.

City Courts Are Quiet In Friday Term

Activity proved unusually light Friday in both Twin City municipal courts, with the bulk of those cases heard dealing with traffic violations.

Monroe's docket included fining $425 and costs or seven months for driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages of Sam Flanagan, 49, 303 Frederick, and Negro David Dorsey Jr., 27, 906 Rogers.

Fined $500 and costs or nine months for illegal use of a weapon was 39 year old Negro Francine Harvey, 1307 Rear DeSiard, while on a similar charge Negro Samuel Flintroy, 30, 206 Forest Lawn, was fined $30 and costs or 30 days.

Three fined $30 and costs or 30 days for reckless driving included Eugene Brown Jr., 805 Ouachita Ave., and Negroes Charlene Smith, 1807 Short Thomas, and Berry Gardner, 814 Wood St. A $30 bond was forfeited by Negro Ellis Miley of Mangham, and bonds of $25 were forfeited by Willie McDonald, 108 Miro St., and Negro Isaac Stepps, 104 S. 22nd St., all for reckless driving.

For speeding, a $10 bond was forfeited by James Davis, 112 S. 3rd St., and one of $8 by JoAnn McMorris, 210 Clark St. Other cases heard included two each of running stop signs and following too close, and one each of disturbing the peace, public drunkenness, running a red light and driving with inoperative brakes.

West Monroe activity included the fining of Jesse C. Reppond, 25, of Route 2, Redwood Drive, West Monroe, $300 and costs for driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages.

Fined $15 and costs for speeding was Roy G. Eady, 20, Route 3, box 241, West Monroe, while Henry A. Biedenharn, 20, Point Drive, Monroe, and Roy E. Jennings, 20, 702½ Clayton St., West Monroe, were fined $5 and costs for running red lights.

Negro Henry Mack, 17, 423 Class St., West Monroe, was remanded for sentence until Feb. 25 for simple theft.

Reckless driving and causing a wreck on Cypress Street cost Frank N. Ketchell, 44, of 817 N. 4th St., West Monroe, $25 and costs.

New Flashlight Developed For Blind By British

LONDON (UPI) — British designers have developed a "radar flashlight" for the blind.

The "flashlight," which would emit ultra - sonic beams, would work on the same principle as the impulses bats send out to enable them to flyin the dark. It would tell the user how far he is from a solid object.

The aid was designed by Dr. Leslie Kay, of Birmingham University's Electrical Engineering Dept. It is being produced by a British company, Oltra Elecronics, a spokesman for the firm said Friday.

The spokesman explained that the aid consists of a transistorized transmitter - receiver, plus the "flashlight," which the blind person would hold in his hand.

The flashlight would emit an ultra - sonic beam which would bounce off any object in front of him and be picked up as a tone in an earphone. If the pitch is high, the object is relatively far away. If it is low, the object is near at hand. The note would vary in relation to the distance.

Army Recruiters Try New 'Twist'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Army recruiters are trying a new twist —"the Army enlistment twist."

A song aimed at the younger set was recorded Thursday by Dick Dale, billed as the pied piper of the surfers, and singer Francine York.

An Army plug distributed with the record says: "This spin should make lots of instant infantry. Let's fire one, bend our knees, swivel our hips and twist on down and enlist."

Moore Rites Slated Today At 3 P.M.

R. L. MOORE SR.

R. L. Moore Sr., 92, an agricultural leader and longtime resident of Ouachita Parish, died Friday after a lengthy illness. Funeral services will be held today at 3 p.m.

Services will be in the College Place Baptist Church with the Rev. T. Earl Ogg, pastor, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Ray P. Reddin.

Burial will be in the Riverview Cemetery under the direction of Mulhearn Funeral Home.

Masonic rites will be held at graveside.

Mr. Moore was the owner of the old DeSiard Plantation near Sterlington. The retired planter, a native of Union County, Ark., had lived in Ouachita Parish School Board for a number of years and was the first president of the Ouachita Parish Farm Bureau, an officer in the state organization, a member of the Western Star Masonic Lodge and a member of the College Place Baptist Church.

He was a former Man of the Year of the Farm Bureau and was the state's Master Farmer in 1936.

Survivors include five sons, R. L. Moore Jr., Sterlington, J. W. Moore, Guthrie, R. J. Moore, Marshall, Tex., O. O. Moore, Alexandria, and J. A. Moore, Monroe; two daughters, Mrs. Culbert Lee and Mrs. J. P. Zoll, both of Monroe, 12 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be Matt Parker, O. K. Bailey, J. M. Moore, M. M. Funderburk, Grayson Guthrie, Travis Howard, C. C. Matkins and J. W. Perry.

French Leader Ignores Uproar About Policies

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle Friday coldly ignored an almost unparalleled barrage of criticism of his go-it-alone policies from France's allies, including President Kennedy.

Acting like a man who did not care about the uproar he touched off De Gaulle ordered officials to refrain from any retorts or comment.

De Gaulle indicated, however, that irritation over Kennedy's Polaris missile agreement with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan might have been a factor behind his opposition to Britain's entry into the Common Market.

Speaking with a group of National Assembly deputies at an Elysee Palace reception Thursday night, De Gaulle criticized Macmillan for giving "America what poor atomic force it had "when he signed the Polaris agreement.

"It would have been better to have given it to Europe," De Gaulle added. "Well she chose . . ."

It was not exactly clear what De Gaulle referred to in saying that Britain gave its nuclear capability to the United States. But he has been highly critical of a so-called "special relationship" between Britain and the United States, especially in the nuclear field.

Despite De Gaulle's stand - off attitude, one authoritative French source Friday described Kennedy's news conference remarks appealing for Western unity as "statesmanlike."

"On certain points we do not agree with him (Kennedy,)" the source said, "but this is already known. On these points he spoke as a man who, although disagreeing with us, knew he was speaking as a member of the same alliance.

However, officials said that De Gaulle, in a concession to his old friend and West German ally Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, has ordered the French delegation not to force a final break when Common Market negotiations are resumed in Brussels Monday.

Adenauer was reported to have urged de Gaulle here this week to do nothing at Brussels that would endanger ratification by the West German parliament of the French-German cooperation agreement signed by the two statesmen Tuesday.

Bad Weather Conditions Are Varied

By United Press International

While winter storms froze much of the United States and Europeans shivered in their worst cold wave of the century, a severe drought parched Argentina and Australians were flocking to the beaches to escape sweltering heat.

In Sydney, the bureau of meteorology reported summer weather conditions throughout Australia "pretty much normal" to date—meaning temperatures anywhere from the 80's to 100.

Rain and thunderstorms in some areas — notably Melbourne, Sydney and Brisbane—have been severe this year.

The Melbourne area reported heavy losses in fruit crops such as peaches, nectarines, pears, plums and apples as the result of a heavy hailstorm last week. Farmers feared losses may exceed $1 million.

Temperatures in the Melbourne area were ranging between 90 and 100 degrees—described as normal —sending hundreds of thousands of persons to beaches.

It was a little cooler in Sydney —from the 80's to the low 90's. There have been frequent thunderstorms and rainy spells.

In Australia's Northern Territory and Northern Queensland, the usual monsoon rains were drenching wide areas of land, causing some flooding.

In southernmost South America, the story was drought. Reports from Argentina were of the worst drought of the century—even in central Argentina, where the weather at this time of the year is usually marked by a perpetual Turkish bath.

The Argentine heat hit a high of about 100 in late December. Since then, however, summer temperature's have generally been 85 or under and the nights usually have been cool.

Humidity has not been so bad as usual in Argentina, probably because the southerly winds and cold front which usually produce heavy rains when they drive back the warm front of subtropical air from the north, now pass over the vast area stricken by the draught.

The central zone was hit by a three-day dust storm. For a few hours the dust was so thick that air traffic had to be halted.

Mrs. Willie Flint Dies; Services Are Set Today

MANGHAM (Special) — Mrs. Willie Mae Flint, 55, a resident of Mangham died at her residence around 6 a.m. Friday after a short illness. She is survived by several residents of the Twin Cities area.

Among her survivors are two sisters, Mrs. Paul Flint, West Monroe; Mrs. Mittie Carter, Monroe and one brother, W. J. Greenon, Monroe.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. today at New Light Baptist Church near Mangham with the Rev. Dewey Myles officiating, assisted by the Rev. H. L. Weaks. Burial will be in Lynn Cemetery at Archibald under direction of First National Funeral Home of Winnsboro.

Other survivors are her husband, O. W. Flint, Mangham and one son, Roger, also of Mangham.

Pallbearers will be Leo Cheek, C. W. (Bo) Buie, J. F. Boyette, Ed Jones, Homer Prewitt and Wilbur Thames.

Air Defenses To India Army To Be Surveyed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department said Friday a joint U.S.-British Commonwealth military mission will survey India's air defenses and its findings will determine future action by the participating governments in the event of renewed fighting with Communist China.

Department Press Chief Lincoln White did not rule out the possibility that American and British planes might provide air support in case of Chinese bombing raids. A dispatch from New Delhi Thursday said India was reported to have requested Washington and London to throw a defensive aerial umbrella over the country if it is threatened by Communist air attack.

White said that "no decisions have been made or will be made" until the findings of the military mission "have been thoroughly studied by the participating nations."

Nuclear Test Ban Talk To Be Resumed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States, Britain and Russia concluded four days of nuclear test ban talks here Friday and agreed to resume meetings in New York next week.

There was no immediate report on whether the talks made any progress.

Soviet negotiator Nikolai T. Fedorenko said the talks would resume Tuesday at Soviet U.N. Mission headquarters.

Negotiators held three working sessions, each more than three hours and wound up Friday with an "informal working luncheon" at the State Department.

The luncheon ended in some confusion when a group of women from the Women's Strike for Peace met the Soviet delegates in the State Department lobby and thrust large bouquets of flowers at them.

"This is a time for flowers and peace," said Fedorenko, smiling faintly.

The women wanted to present flowers to U. S. Negotiator William C. Foster, but couldn't find him, and finally handed his bouquet to a reporter for delivery.

The Soviet leader agreed to two or three on the spot inspections on Soviet territory to check against underground nuclear explosions being held. The United States believes more inspections would be needed.

Services Today For Mrs. Lewis

Final rites will be conducted at 2 p.m. today in the chapel of Kilpatrick's Funeral Home in West Monroe for Mrs. Phoebe Cowan Lewis, 77, who died Thursday night in a local hospital.

A native of the Lapine community, Mrs. Lewis was the widow of James L. Lewis and was a lifelong resident of Ouachita Parish. She lived at 403 Smith St. in West Monroe.

Officiating will be the Rev. Frank Smith, with interment to follow in Calhoun Cemetery.

Survivors include a brother, Paul Eugene Cowan of West Monroe.

Pallbearers will be John Watson, Billy Copeland, Nathan Copeland, John F. Jones Jr., Robert Green, Robbie Rutledge, Frank Golson Jr. and W. H. McLin.

EFFECTS OF FLORIDA CROP FREEZE

Living Cost In December Down; Rise Is Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government dished up a mixture of good and bad news Friday for consumers.

The Labor Department reported living costs in December registered their greatest decline in the past four years, the biggest drop for any month since December 1958.

Robert J. Myers, deputy labor statistics commissioner, said however, that the adverse effects of the early December crop freeze in Florida are forcing up food prices so that January living costs will again be near a record.

The December decline was measured at two-tenths of 1 per cent, bringing the government's consumer price index to 105.8 per cent of the 1957-59 average. The December decline, a bit deeper than expected for the month, brought the index to three-tenths of 1 per cent below its peak level last September.

Myers said a look at what happened to living costs during 1962 showed they increased 1.2 per cent during the year, as compared with 1 per cent in 1961, 1.5 per cent in 1960 and .9 per cent in 1959.

Comparing 1953 to the present, living costs advanced around the world, he said, by 43 per cent in France, 30 per cent in the United Kingdom, 28 per cent in Japan, 23 per cent in Italy and India, 17 per cent in Germany and 13 per cent in the United States and Canada.

"So we've really had substantial success in coping with inflation," he observed.

The Labor Department also reported that the after-tax earnings of factory workers rose to a high in December. The average for the worker with three dependents was $86.72 a week, compared with the prior peak of $86.45 last September.

Myers said the December earnings increase was due to somewhat higher pay rates and work hours and the year-end lag in Social Security tax payroll deductions.

Some workers got pay increases and some pay cuts based on different labor contract provisions keying pay rates to living cost measures. The largest group affected was some 270,000 truck drivers, due for a four-cent hourly pay rate increase.

Nearly 30,000 workers will have their wage rates reduced a penny an hour. The largest such group is employed at the Sperry Rand Corp. outside New York City.

Lower prices for food, in a measurement taken before the winter crop freeze effects began to be felt in grocery store prices, accounted for the December living cost decline.

Lower costs for fresh fruits, poultry and pork helped bring December food prices down an average six-tenths of 1 per cent. Other consumer cost items about balanced out. Myers noted one price change that he said could herald a trend: Men's haircut prices rose to $2.25 in San Francisco.

Africa Has Other Side Of Weather

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—There's another side to the cold weather afflicting much of the world.

Here in the Southern Hemisphere it is midsummer. In the Langkloof region farmers are complaining of heavy losses because apples are being scorched by severe heat. Orchards are being wetted down to stem appleburn.

Stennis Says Cuba Buildup Probe Is Set

John A. McCone, director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

But the subcommittee chairman, Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., supported the view expressed Thursday by President Kennedy that there has been no significant buildup of offensive power in the Communist-ruled island since Soviet withdrawal of nuclear weapons last autumn.

TOP SECRET

Morse said the session was top secret and he refused to tell reporters what Rusk and McCone reported.

"I believe the American people have every reason to have confidence in the statements which the President made yesterday," Morse said.

Morse added his confidence that if there is a buildup dangerous to this nation or to Latin America "you can expect the United States to take what action is necessary."

Morse summoned his Latin American Affairs subcommittee to check on published reports of a fresh buildup of Soviet-Cuban forces. He said after the briefing that he regards the matter closed for the present.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., the assistant Senate majority leader, told newsmen that Rusk and McCone "stand by the President's report of Thursday that since October only one Soviet ship that might have been bearing military supplies has docked in Cuba."

Humphrey said he is convinced there is no indication of a recent new buildup of significance.

But Aiken took this view:

"I think Russia has built an enormously strong military and political base in Cuba, much stronger than it was six months ago. The strengthening of this military-political fortress is continuing.

"Some of their weapons would be offensive, according to my sensibilities."

He brushed aside queries about whether he believes nuclear weapons remain in Cuba.

Symington, a former secretary of the Air Force, centered his concern on the aerial buildup.

"What worries me is the number of the people in the air complex. There are more members of the Russian air complex than that 17,000 ..."

Negro Youth Hit By Car; Said Badly Injured

A Negro child struck and severely injured by an automobile and a damaging fire engaged Twin City police and firemen Friday.

In Glenwood Hospital and reportedly not expected to live after he was struck by an auto near his home Friday evening was Eddie Joe Hall, 4, of 1724 Crawford St., West Monroe. Driver of the car, Felton Ivey, 52-year-old Negro of 118 Ransom St., West Monroe, told police the child darted into the street from a driveway at 1722 Crawford St.

The boy was carried to Glenwood by Ivey's son, Felton Ivey Jr., where he was reported 9:30 p.m. in serious danger from internal injuries and a fractured skull. No charges had been filed by police pending further investigation.

Monroe firemen were occupied for nearly two hours Friday when fire broke out around 1:30 p.m. at the home of C. K. Dickard, 1103 N. 6th St. Firemen said Dickard was under the house attempting to thaw a frozen water line when the blaze began.

Damage was reported confined to a hot water closet, breakfast room and bedroom, though the rest of the home was well smoked. Trucks 103 and 106 and ladder truck two answered the alarm; all were back on station at 2:57 p.m.

In other activity, Monroe police charged Negro David Edward Coleman, 48, of 3103 Owl St., with theft and bond was set at $100. Charged with auto theft in West Monroe was Negro Lee Roy Gay, 20, of 315 Rear Benson St., West Monroe. John Willie Tate, 33 year old Farmerville Negro, was booked while driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages after he was picked up at 10:20 p.m. at North Seventh Street and the Arkansas Road.

News Agency Chief Dies Unexpectedly

LONDON (AP) — Walton A. Cole, 59, general manager of the Reuters news agency, died Friday, apparently of complications from a recent severe bronchial attack.

Cole, who had planned to return to the hospital next week for a checkup, collapesed in his office in the Reuters Building on Fleet Street, London's news center.

Cole was editor of Reuters when he was 33 and was appointed general manager at 47.

Married in 1936, he had two daughters.

BURMA AID INCREASED

TOKYO (UPI) — Japan and Burma initialed an agreement Friday providing for increased World War II indemnity payments and economic aid for Burma.

South Locals Defy Order

although negotiations were continuing in the two Gulf ports, the workers should report to the docks.

"No contract, no work," retorted George Dixon, an ILA vice president and president of Local 1410 in Mobile.

"We don't want others to stop working," he said, but added that as things stood, his men would not report to the docks.

The back-to-work order came from ILA President William V. Bradley, who joined Assistant Secretary of Labor James Reynolds in Galveston in an effort to iron out a contract snag over local issues.

Seamen who had refused to cross ILA picket lines began reporting back to their ships.

The National Maritime Union said that it would take about 12 hours for its 8,000 members to get back to work on the East Coast.

A spokesman for the New York Shipping Association (NYSA) which represents 145 steamship and stevedore firms, said as many as 22,000 longshoremen would be called back to work in the port of New York Saturday to handle cargo aboard 263 ships now in the harbor.

This was believed to be the greatest number of ships riding at anchor in the bay and tied up alongside piers since World War II convoy days.

The spokesman said the men probably would work around the clock during the weekend getting thousands of tons of cargo moving.

He said the 173 foreign ships in the harbor each had from six to 10 thousand tons of unloaded cargo still in holds. This meant that there was at least one million tons of cargo to be unloaded.

Longshoremen throughout the Atlantic and Gulf coasts overwhelmingly approved the new contract calling for a 37-cent-per-hour package raise over the next two years.

A presidential panel headed by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., helped draft the strike-settling agreement in New York last week, warning that if the strike were not quickly settled Congress would be likely to pass anti-strike legislation at the request of President Kennedy.

The Galveston, Mobile and Baltimore negotiations were concerned with "local adjustments" to the overall contract.

The ILA went on strike Dec. 23 when a Taft-Hartley 80-day cooling off period expired. The major contract stumbling block involved automation — a demand by employer groups that work gang size be reduced.

The two sides agreed to sidestep the issue for the present so the issues could be studied and negotiate the new two-year contract on the issues of wages and other fringe benefits alone.

The longshoremen maintained that if the employer demands were met, it would mean that 5,000 dock workers would be thrown out of work.

The Morse committee recommended that the work gang issue be studied by the Department of Labor and recommendations made for a settlement by July, 1964.

Father Of Three Local Residents Dies On Friday

TALLULAH (Special) — Funeral services for Charles D. Karnes, 76, of Sondheimer, will be held here today at 3 p.m. in the chapel of Cupit Young Funeral Home with the Rev. Wilson Watson officiating. He was the father of three West Monroe residents.

Interment will follow in the Garden of Memories Cemetery, under the direction of Cupit Young Funeral Home.

Mr. Karnes died Friday in a local hospital following a lengthy illness.

A native of Seamore, Mo., he was a former school teacher and draftsman. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge, and a Masonic rites will be conducted at graveside. Mr. Karnes was a member of the Methodist Church.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Julia E. Karnes, Sondheimer; four daughters, Mrs. B. K. Bryant and Mrs. L. C. Allen, both of West Monroe, Mrs. Frances Woodhead, Covina, Calif., and Mrs. Gus Eaker, Sondheimer; two sons, C. R. Karnes, West Monroe, and Roy E. Karnes, Birmingham, Ala.; 14 grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be Charles Arneson, Bob Brown, Bob Gaumnitz, Pete Russell, Percy Hammons, Ernest Stewart, E. V. Parker and W. J. Wilson.

DEATH TOLL RISES

Most Of Europe Remains In Grip Of Frozen Blitz

LONDON (AP)—A slight thaw spread in parts of Europe Friday but most of the Continent was still in the grip of an icy blitz that hit folks, reindeer and jelly fish.

Weather experts predicted the whole Continent would soon be back in the clasp of freezing and subzero temperatures which have taken a death toll of more than 200 persons.

The rough weather extended from Europe across Siberia and southwestern Russia to Japan and Southeast Asia.

A four-day blizzard in Japan's worst postwar winter closed factories, thousands of schools and crushed houses with heavy snow. Six persons were killed and 11 others missing in a snowslide. The Korean port of Inchon was frozen shut for the first time in 50 years. In equatorial North Borneo the heaviest rains in 40 years turned whole districts into lakes.

In Europe, Norwegian authorities reported big herds of reindeer in trouble—starving because their food was iced under.

French fishing trawlers said the surface waters of the Atlantic Coast were too cold even for jelly fish. The fish were seeking shelter in the depths.

In Derbyshire, England, a locomotive engineer and his mate were injured by running into icicles in a tunnel.

The unofficial estimate of deaths in England in five weeks of frigid weather was more than 100.

The tally for the rest of Europe included Italy 34, Yugoslavia 29, Holland 20, Greece 18, Belgium 14, Sweden 4, Norway 3.

In Athens 24 patients checked in overnight at hospitals with heart ailments aggravated by severe weather.

In France, the rivers Rhone and the Seine were frozen over. Many canals in the northern and eastern provinces were blocked, delaying shipments of coal and iron ore.

Fog closed both airports outside Oslo.

In Sweden, several vessels were reported stuck in the ice in the Drogden Strait. Ice breakers were hard at work in the Kattegat clearing sea lanes.

Ice brought shipping to a halt on the Rhine. Ferries on several Swiss lakes froze up. Snow paralyzed northern Greece and in some places, Salonika for instance, it was 10-feet deep.

In Poland the temperature dropped to 15 degrees Fahrenheit and schools remained closed for the fourth day because of fuel shortages.

Yugoslavia reported road conditions improving after a mild thaw in some places. But temperatures remained at 10 above zero in Belgrade.

Britain continued to suffer from electricity and gas cuts. Leaking gas, believed to have been caused by cold splitting a pipe, poisoned 20 people in Stockport. Two were hospitalized.

Roads throughout the nation were rivers of slush as banks of ice melted under a wintry sun.

One of the warmer places in Europe was Nice, Southern France, where the temperature was just above freezing. Denmark, West Germany and Belgium also reported an easing of the cold.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, reported strong winds and snow storms in the Bay of Novorossisk, in the Black Sea area of the Soviet Nnion. Two ships, the Liberian Ailolos, 10,000 tons, and the Greek vessel Bendita, 7,190 tons, were blown aground but there were no casualties.

A 12-inch rain in two days and 80 knot winds lashed Beirut, Lebanon.

Spanish authorities rescued 122 passengers — including seven Americans — from the Tangier-Algeciras ferry which had been grounded in a storm in Algeciras Bay for 30 hours. The American passengers included two diplomats.

LIGHT SNOW FLURRIES are predicted Saturday over the northern and central Plains, the Great Lakes region and parts of the Ohio valley. Periods of drizzle will fall from the central Plains southward into Texas and the lower Mississippi valley. A slight warming trend will spread over the eastern half of the nation while colder readings are expected over the Plateau states. (AP Wirephoto)

Smathers Says There Was No Air Cover Talk

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—Sen. George A. Smathers said on Friday there was "no conversation" about air cover for the Cuban invasion at President Kennedy's 1961 luncheon with Florida newspaper executives.

The Florida Democrat's statement was a direct contradiction to an account Thursday of the luncheon by Fort Lauderdale publisher Jack W. Gore, who said the President told editors he personally cancelled air protection for the Cuban invasion.

Smathers said in an interview, "I was sitting right across the table from the President at the meeting and was in a position to hear all of the conversation that went on.

"I am certain there was no conversation of the character described by my good friend Jack Gore. The only reference I remember at all to this matter was that the President expressed disappointment that the air cover the Cubans were to have flown in the B26s had not been more effective."

Smathers conceded the conversation was two years ago "and memories are naturally not as fresh as if this had happened more recently."

The lawmaker, a close friend of the President, said, "During the interim the other story about the supposed cancellation of an intended United States air cover has developed and it is obviously very easy to get the time of development of dates and facts confused.

"However," Smathers said, "I can say flatly that at that particular meeting there was no conversation with respect to the United States air cover.

"Furthermore, I have checked with some of the other editors present and this seems to be their recollection."

The controversy began after Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy said in a magazine interview last week that "there never were any plans made for U. S. air cover, so there was nothing to withdraw."

Gore wrote in the Fort Lauderdale news Thursday, "the President told us that plans were made to protect the invaders from the air, but that he made the decision not to use air power. The President explained that he decided against supplying air cover because U. S. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson had complained that any such action would make a liar of him at the U.N."

President Kennedy confirmed his brother's account of the Bay of Pigs invasion.

Company Tells Of Pay Increase

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The Ethyl Corp. announced Friday a five per cent pay increase, retroactive to Jan. 1, for all members and other non-union represented employes.

The company offered the same wage hike to union-represented employes through individual unions. The unions were scheduled to meet to present the offer to members.

The unions have a choice of accepting or rejecting the offer. Union contracts with Ethyl do not expire for several months.

An Ethyl spokesman said the wage boost was in line with those generally in the industry.

Action was taken on 24 cases involving 20 persons in Fourth District Court here Friday with Judge Mack E. Barham presiding.

Sam W. Hightower, 29, of 1403 Milton St., Monroe, was fined $400 and costs on a charge of operating a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating beverages.

Three other persons were each fined $300 and costs on charges of operating a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating beverages. They included Eugene L. Johnston, 50, of box 453, Oak Grove; Russell Hanson, 43, of route 1, Farmerville; and Robert E. Elliott, 27, of 211 Browning St., West Monroe.

Elliott also was sentenced to 30 days in the parish jail on a charge of driving with a revoked license, and was fined $25 and costs on a charge of disturbing the peace.

Victor Adams, 34, of 115 Blanks St., West Monroe, pleaded guilty to a charge of operating a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating beverages and was remanded to Monday.

Trial dates were set in four other cases involving the same charges. They included Jefferson P. Golson, 57, of route 1, box 205, West Monroe, March 29; William J. Lenard, 60, of route 3, box 194, West Monroe, March 1; Willie H. Bacle, 35, of Hebert, March 22; and Larry W. Broadnax, 25, Negro of 1521 Olive St., Monroe, Feb. 15.

Bacle also is charged with hit and run driving and will be tried March 22 on this count.

Bond was called against Sammy L. Belgon, 40, Negro of box 63, Mer Rouge, charged with operating a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating beverages and simple obstruction of the highway.

Freddie L. Foster, 34, Negro of 315 Jacob St., West Monroe, was fined $50 and costs on a charge of reckless driving.

Bond was called against Harper Lindsay Caldclugh, alias Lindsey Clark Core, 31, Negro of 613 Adams St., Monroe, charged with gambling.

Mavis Ruth Cruitt, 23, of 411 Washington St., Monroe, pleaded not guilty to a charge of theft involving money and stationery valued at $25. Trial date was set May 9.

In other action, three persons were each fined $25 and costs on charges of disturbing the peace, one person was called on bond on a charge of disturbing the peace, one person was fined $25 and costs on a charge of permitting an unlicensed person to operate a motor vehicle, one person was called on bond on a charge of simple obstruction of the highway, and one case of simple battery was nolle prossed.

Pennel Is 2nd In Maple Leaf

JACKY CUPIT, of Longview, Tex., holds the midway lead today in the San Francisco International Open with a two-round 67-70—137. ## Texan Gets Lead In Golf Tourney

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — U.S. Open champion Jack Nicklaus was eliminated from the first tournament since he turned pro as Texan Jacky Cupit grabbed the midway lead in the $50,000 San Francisco Open Golf Tournament Friday with a 36-hole score of 137.

The 21-year-old Nicklaus, bothered by an ailing left hip, carded a second round 73 for a 149 total—not low enough to stay in the field as it was cut to the low scoring 75 pros and 10 amateurs. The two-time National Amateur champion had been in the money in the 28 straight tournaments he'd played since becoming a pro in Nov. 1961.

Cupit, 24-year-old youngest brother of a golfing family and co-leader with Art Wall in the opening round, took undisputed hold on first place with a 1-under-par 70 over the Harding Park course.

Cupit dropped birdie putts of 16 feet at the fifth hole, 9 feet at the 15th and 18 at the 16th, but three-putted the ninth and missed the green at the 11th.

That left him just one stroke ahead of chunky Phil Rodgers, who also had a 70 for a 138 total.

Bunched at 139 were Jack Burke, Wall, who had a 72 for his second round, Charlie Sifford, Bob Rosburg, Billy Casper and Miller Barber.

Burke and Rosburg shot second round 69's, Casper and Barber 70, and Sifford 71.

Nicklaus was the only one of golf's big three to miss the cutoff as Arnold Palmer shot a 69 for 142 and Gary Player stayed in with a 73 and 147 total.

Nicklaus, who won the U. S. Open title last summer in his rookie year, had pain killing shots before starting his second round but he couldn't recover from the soaring 76 of Thursday.

He sharply criticized the bumpy greens on the 6,722-yard Harding layout and declared, "I wouldn't have started in this tournament at all if I had known how it was going to be with the bursitis in the hip and the bad conditions of the greens."

Nicklaus added that on the advice of his physician, he will not play in next week's Palm Springs Classic.

Nicklaus actually missed the cut by only one stroke as scores of 148 or under qualified for the two final rounds in this 72 hole tournament. He had collected money in all of his 28 tournaments in the United States since turning pro and finished the British Open although not collecting any money.

A big jam of 12 golfers at 140, still two strokes under par, promised a wide open tournament the rest of the way. In the big gang were Gardner Dickinson, Buster Cupit, one of Jacky's four pro golfing brothers, Canadians George Knudson and Jack Bissegger, Wes Ellis, Tony Lema, Don January, Ken Venturi, Fred Hawkins, Bob Harrison, Bobby Nichols, and Mike Fetchick.

Defending champion Gene Littler came in at 141 with an even-par 71.

Maroons Face Memphis State In Tilt Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Mississippi State, ranked ninth nationally and on top of the Southeastern Conference basketball standings with a 4-1 record, goes against Memphis State Saturday night.

Auburn, second in the standings, was beaten by third-ranked Georgia Tech 69-64 Tuesday night. Alabama, in a three-way tie for fourth place, doesn't play this weekend.

In other games this weekend, Auburn plays Georgia, Tech takes on Tennessee, Xavier of Oho is at Kentucky, and Mississippi meets Middle Tennessee State.

Tech coach Whack Hyder plans to use the same team against Tennessee that started in Tuesday night's game against Auburn. But it won't be the same team that finished against the Tigers.

Substitutes have played a big part in Tech's record.

Tennessee coach Bill Gibbs said he would slow down the pace against Tech, but Hyder said he doesn't look for any such development.

"They beat Kentucky with a faster offense than they had been running and I expect more of the same," said Hyder.

Tennessee beat Kentucky 78-69 in overtime last Saturday night.

Tork Soars To New Mark In Pole Vault

TORONTO (AP) — Former Marine Dave Tork of Walnut, Calif., bettered the world indoor record for the pole vault Friday night by clearing 16 feet, 2¼ inches at the Maple Leafs indoor track and field meet.

Tork, now employed by the state of West Virginia and living in Fairmont, topped by three-quarters of an inch the indoor mark set last Saturday at Helsinki by Finland's Pentti Nikula. In December, Don Meyers of The University of Colorado had done 6-1¼. Nikula did 16-1½ to erase that mark.

The crowd of 12,650 — largest track gathering either indoors or outdoors in Canada since the Empire Games in 1954—exploded with a roar of cheers when the slender, 27-year-old Tork cleared the record height.

Only two were left in the running. John Pennel of Monroe, La., was the other, when the graduate of West Virginia University made his vault with his fiberglass pole. Tork was grinning from ear to ear when he scrambled to his feet.

Pennel's second place jump was 15-7¼.

TORONTO (AP) — Don Styron finished third in the second qualifying heat in the 50-yard hurdles Friday, but failed to qualify for the finals.

Paul Jones of Wayne State won the heat in 6.3.

Styron, a Northeast State college student, ran as an independent. He was a member of the Northeast track team before completing his eligibility and is co-holder of world record in the 60-yard low hurdles. He also holds the world record in the 220-yard lows.

Tork, married and the father of two daughters, has been promoting the West Virginia centennial celebration and he told the crowd when a microphone was pushed close to him:

'I'm from West Virginia and close to him:

I'm from West Virginia and I'm mighty proud of it. We are celebrating our centennial in West Virginia this year and I'd like to dedicate this world record to the state."

After Tork cleared the height, Pennel tried but failed on three attempts. Tork decided not to try to go any higher.

Earlier, the sensational Canadian teenager, Bruce Kidd, set a Canadian record by winning the three-mile run in 13 minutes, 34.6 seconds.

Kid bettered his own previous best time for the distance by 12.4 seconds and won by a whopping 210 yards from Brian Craig of England.

SAYS BAYLOR COACH

Great Athletes Like Christians

By RICK BRYAN
World Sports Editor

Great athletes and great Christians have essentially the same spiritual qualities, Baylor University Coach John Bridgers said in a speech here Friday night.

Bridgers, speaking to an audience estimated at 220 in the first annual sports banquet of the First Baptist Church in West Monroe, pointed out that the best athletic teams and the best athletes always had great spiritual qualities. These he said are also the qualities that make up great Christians.

Bridgers, who charmed his audience with his wit at times and perhaps surprised it at others with his keen comparisons, listed the characteristics as - great convictions, a positive approach and unselfishness.

West Monroe's Jerry Stovall, the Baylor head football mentor said, is one person who has those qualities. "There is a saying," Bridgers commented, "Why wait to be a great man when you can be a great boy." Bridgers said the Louisiana State All-America halfback fits this category.

To exemplify the unselfishness aspects, Bridgers choose former Baylor All - America halfback Ronnie Bull. Bull, who was voted the Rookie - of - the - year in the National Football League this year, always put his school, his coaches and his team first, Bridgers said.

Bridgers recalled Bull's last game. The team got behind and had to pass to catch up. Bull didn't get to run much and after the game a sportswriter asked him about it. And the All - America halfback, who was seeking a pro - contract, just shrugged and answered that Baylor had to pass to try to win and that was about all there was to it.

Don'ts," Bridgers said, "never made a great athlete and never made a great Christian - you have to do something." Former Baylor quarterback Bobby Ply was told he would have to play defense or get off the squad when he went into pro football. The team already had its quarterbacks.

Instead of quitting Ply began learning defense, something he hadn't played in college for several seasons. When he finally got to play in a game, Bridgers said, Ply intercepted four passes. The second game he intercepted three. He could have just told them I'm a quarterback not a defensive specialist and left, the red-headed coach added, but he didn't.

Men with great convictions are badly needed in today's "Age of Skepticism," according to Bridgers.

Communist brain washing was so effective on American prisoners, he said, because its victims didn't believe strongly enough.

Saint Paul is Bridgers symbol of a man with great convictions. There was a man said Bridgers, who was a winner no matter what happened - in victory or defeat. Men of strong convictions made this country what it is today, he said.

The guests, football players from the high schools in the Twin Cities and Northeast State college also heard the humerous side of Alabama native, who still speaks with a drawl.

He told the joke about the football coach who was fired and went to work in the zoo, replacing the sick bear. The coach, wearing his fake bearsuit, was swinging in his cage one day and he went a little too high and flipped himself over into the lion's cage. The coach forgot he was a bear and ran around inside the cage shouting, "Help, Help." Finally the lion cornered him. "Shut up," the lion told him, "you're ruining it for the rest of us. Did you think you were the only football coach in town without a job?"

"We're known as the Bears at Baylor," Bridgers went on. "On the campus they have this big bear pit. And sometimes I look out there and wonder. . . Are they all bears?"

"I'm not really so noble," he continued. "My ambition is to stay out of the bear pit."

"Usually people get a winning coach to speak at these sort of things," said Bridgers. "We're doing something different at Baylor. This fall we tested the alumni. And you know - some of them failed."

Bryant Adds To Coaching Staff

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—Paul Bryant, Alabama football coach, announced an addition to his staff Friday in the wake of promotions for two.

Bryant said Dee Powell, who played football at Texas A&M and served briefly on the Alabama coaching staff, will become an assistant coach March 1.

Powell was on Bryant's staff briefly in 1958 before being called to military service. He is now stationed at MacDill AFB at Tampa, Fla.

Bryant promoted Pat James to assistant coach Thursday, succeeding Phil Cutchin who left to become coach at Oklahoma State, Howard Schnellenberger moved from end coach to offense coach.

IN BOWLING FINALS

Welu, Carter Continue Long-Standing Battle

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Billy Welu and Don Carter, a pair of St. Louis bowlers with a long-standing feud, continued to wrestle Friday for first place in the finals of the All-Star Bowling Tournament.

Welu retained the lead after the 10th round of the finals, but his advantage over second-place Carter shriveled to just over 2 points.

Welu won three of his four games with Bill Helsel of Tampa, Fla., in the 10th round and outscored his opponent 897-840. Carter picked up ground in the same session, however, when he swept four games from his teammate, Ray Bluth, with an 887 series. Bluth, who is also from St. Louis, tumbled to seventh place.

Welu had 203-48 Petersen points going into the 11th round. He has 26 victories, 13 losses and 1 tie and has knocked down 8,873 pins. Carter has 201-31. Teams captained by Carter and Welu have battled for the world five-man title for years. Carter's team won the title in 1961 and successfully defended the crown last December.

Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, Mich., broadened her lead in the women's division after she swept a two-game series in the 10th round from Jessie Miller of Angola, N. Y. Second place Bobbie Shaler of Chicago lost ground despite a double victory over Sylvia Wene, two-time champion from Philadelphia.

Mrs. Ladewig, seven - time champion, has won 15 and lost 5 while spilling 4,028 pins for a 95-28 point total. Miss Shaler has 94-32 points.

Defending women's champion Shirley Garms of Chicago remained mired in last place.

Under the Peterson Point system a bowler gets one point for every game he wins and one point for every 50 pins knocked down.

COUNT 51-32

LaSalle Tightens 2-A Grip With Irish Defeat

By STUART HILL
World Sports Writer

LaSalle of Olla tightened its grip on the district 2-A southern half lead Friday night by putting down all St. Matthew's efforts and making use of its height advantage to down the Irish, 51-32 and notch its fifth conference win in as many outings.

The Tigers also took the girls game, 41-16 but the St. Matthews B team took an Irish victory over LaSalle, 36-26 with Pete Cernigliaro scoring 13 - points for the junior Irishmen.

The varisty boys encounter was a mass of ball - slapping and arm swinging from the middle of the third quarter on with the taller Tigers coming out on top in the district match. The loss left the Irish with a 3-3 mark for the season and a 7-10 overall record. The Tigers are 19-2 for the year.

The game started tightening up in the second half after each team scored relatively freely in the opening half.

LaSalle jumped off to a 6-0 lead with 5:35 remaining in the opening frame and the Irish got on the scoreboard 10 seconds later.

The Tigers pushed to a 12-5 lead later in the quarter with 2:20 remaining before the Irish began moving upward and cut the lead to 14-10 at the end of the period.

With the opening of the second frame, each squad played it tight defensively under the goal and forced each other to the outside for markers.

Lanky Skeeter Ritter started hitting long ones when he made the first field goal of the quarter with 4:45 left in the half. Then Tommy Cruse, who hit 10-points for the Tigers, seemed to find trouble on the inside and was forced to take the long ones also. Ritter and Cruse each tallied three times in the period on lengthy field goals. Richard Fontana added a free throw in the period to account for the Irish's seven points while Billy Masters, LaSalle's center man, scored on a free one and Mike Baker added a field goal which pushed the Tigers into a 25-17 half time lead.

By managing almost two shots each time they reached their goal, the Tigers increased their lead to 32-17 with 5:40 remaining in the third quarter. St. Matthew's cut the lead to nine - points on baskets by Clifford Worley, two by Wayne Lasuzzo and one by Ritter.

With less than two and a half minutes to play in the period, Masters tallied twice, Cruse pumped in a long one and Baker hit from the free line while the Tiger defense allowed only a free throw to Ritter and a well deserved short goal by Fontana. LaSalle held a 43-28 lead at the end of the third quarter.

The final field goal of the third period served as a preview of the coming quarter. With about 10 seconds in the quarter Fontana scored on a surprising steal after a tight defensive effort under the LaSalle goal as the Tigers were bringing in the ball after a successful free throw.

Throughout the first three periods, the Tigers used bullet - like passes to work their plays. But in the beginning of the fourth all five Irish cagers began going after the ball with hands, arms legs and anything available. In return the LaSalle squad shortened their passes, took longer setting up plays and worked for more shots on the inside.

With each concentrating on different phases of defensive strategy only 12 - points were scored in the period.

Fontana and Worley, the small Irish play caller, hit for the St. Matthew's team with four LaSalle players getting in on the scoring act.

LaSalle mustered more shots during the game than did the Irish and came out on top in the percentages department. The Tigers hit on 34 percent of their first half field goal attempts and the Irish made 30 per cent in the half. In the second half the Irish still hit 30 with LaSalle dropping to 31 percent.

St. Matthews hit on 14 of 47 attempts and LaSalle tallied on 21 of 61 tries from the court.

Masters hit 19 - points for the Tigers on seven field goals and five free throws with Baker and Cruse sinking 11 and 10-points respectively to make three Tigers in the double figures.

Ritter, who combined with Lasuzzo, Fontana and Jimmy Shanas under the board, connected mostly on long shots to notch 12 points for the Irish while Fontana, usually St. Matthew's high scorer hit 10 - points.

Celie Reeder and Mary Elias each scored eight - points for the St. Matthew's girls but the Irish girls were altogether shutout of scoring in the fourth quarter while the defensive minded LaSalle lasses turned almost every scoring opportunity into paydirt.

West Monroe Falls To Panthers, 56-43

Eros' Panthers waltzed to the foul line enough times Friday night in the West Monroe gym to sink 20 free throws and defeat the Rebels, 56-43 in a non-conference encounter.

The Rebs sank 20 field goals from the floor while Eros hit 18. West Monroe managed only three free tosses.

The West Monroe girls took a 43-19 victory over the Eros sextet in an earlier game.

Richard Anderson paced the West Monroe boys with 14-points for the night on six field goals and two of the three free throws.

Eros landed three players in the double figures with Alton Chambliss leading the Panthers with 18 - points, Bobby Harper hitting 17 and Red Jarrell following with 16 - points.

Harper hit five free throws with Chambliss hitting six and Jarrell scoring on four from the free throw position.

Eros led the Rebels 27-13 at the half but the Rebels cut the lead to 33-30 at the end of the third quarter.

The Panthers busted wide open in the fourth quarter for a 23-point scoring spree with West Monroe mustering only 13 - points in the final quarter.

Eros now stands with a 13-11 mark for the season and West Monroe is left with exactly twice as many losses as wins with a 7-14 season record.

Bursitis Breaks Jack Nicklaus' Winning Streak

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Hit by bursitis in his left hip, U. S. Open Champion Jack Nicklaus three-putted himself out of the San Francisco International Open Friday and broke a string of 28 consecutive PGA tournaments in which he had collected pay checks.

Along with many other tour pros struggling with Harding park's rough, bumpy greens, the 21-year-old former National Amateur champion condemned the heavily-played public links layout as the "worst I've ever seen."

"This is the first time I've ever criticized a golf course like this but I never will play here again until they get the greens in proper condition," the big blond said after three-putting 11 greens. He also missed trivial putts on two other holes.

His 73 ran his 36-hold score up to 149 and eliminated him by one stroke. It took 148 or better to stay in for the final two rounds.

On advice of his doctor, Nicklaus said he was withdrawing his entry from next week's Palm Springs Open so he could take a week of rest.

When his painful hip condition developed as this tournament was starting, it first was thought to be arthritis but he said X-ray examination showed it was bursitis in the upper left hip bone, at the joint.

George Sisler Has New Duties

PITTSBURGH (AP) — George Sisler, Pittsburgh Pirates batting coach, will take up new duties starting this season.

General Manager Joe L. Brown said Friday Sisler will concentrate on batting instruction on the minor league level and will scout the National League and free agents, making his summer headquarters in St. Louis.

The Pirates have not yet chosen a new batting coach.

Sisler, a first-baseman in his playing days, made baseball's Hall of Fame with a lifetime major league batting average of .340.

Entrance Test Okayed; FSU Turned Down

ATLANTA (AP) — The Southeastern Conference voted Friday to require standard entrance examinations for athletes and broaden the freshman football program after rejecting an expansion proposal that would have admitted Florida State to its prosperous midst.

The conference, with presidents of the 12 member schools wielding the voting power, turned down Georgia Tech's bid to remove the 140 ceiling on sports scholarships and rejected Tulane's request to cut the limit to 120. The educators backed a Tech proposal, however, to reduce yearly football grants from 55 to 45.

Vaughn Mancha, Florida State athletic director, said his school would keep trying to get an SEC membership.

"We are disappointed, naturally," he remarked. "This makes our third try, but we're not giving up, and perhaps we'll make it some day."

In the windup session of its 30th annual meeting, the SEC agreed to permit Kentucky to start fall football practice Aug. 26 and Florida Aug. 29. The others must wait for the regular Sept. 1 opening.

Kentucky and Florida use a three-semester school system, and fall classes begin earlier. A new conference rule permits workouts to start nine days, not counting Sundays, before classes begin.

The Last Hole

By Robert Ewing III

1963 Winners

So far, it's Arnold Palmer, Gary Player, and Billy Casper hitting the big PGA jackpots this year. Casper won the Bing Crosby Tourney when Palmer, Player, and Jack Nicklaus all faltered badly on the last few holes. The thing that has really been outstanding during the early part of the tour is the consistent play of last years big winners— Usually a fresh face shows up strongly early in the season.

We have a chart here of the top 25 players in 1962. If you're an avid follower of the sport, this chart will be worth clipping out for reference during the coming year:

11 Holes-In-Ones

A certain Dr. Joseph O. Boydstone set a record this past year that probably will never be duplicated —He had 11 holes-in-ones in 10 months all coming on regulation holes on regulation courses! Dr. Boydstone made these shots on holes ranging from 123 yards to 210 yards long but the amazing thing is that he made 2 in one 18-hole round and then MADE 3 IN 9 HOLES! None of this was done by any sort of trickery— The odds just went haywire. Wonder if he ever watched Twilight Zone?

Local Scene Frozen In

Most of the area golf courses have been open during the past few days but activity has been at an absolute minimum. Most of the people that have been around the courses lately have gone there to drink hot coffee and talk about the weather. The greens, however, are in pretty good shape considering everything and if we can just get a slight warming trend then the play will take a sharp rise— The hunting seasons are just about all gone and this has been a long winter with more to come. It will be nice in just a few short weeks, though, and let's hope the groundhog doesn't see his shadow!

WITH PREDICTED WIN

Clay Disillusions Many Fight Fans

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Cassius Clay's prophesied third-round knockout of Charlie Powell disillusioned thousands of fight fans, but the impetuous Clay couldn't care less.

Many of the 11,238 who braved sub-zero temperatures to jam the Civic Arena Thursday night greeted Clay's savage disposal of Powell with boos and catcalls.

"So what," the ebullient youngster chortled Friday as he prepared to leave for his native Louisville. "That wasn't a record-breaking crowd (for an indoor fight in Pittsburgh) there for nothing. They came to see my mouth on the floor.

"I'm smart. I know what brings the people in to see me. I pop off and talk, talk, talk before a fight. And everybody comes out to see me get beat. Then when I go out and do what I said I would do, they go away mad. They say they've been tricked. Well, they can say anything they want to just as they pay their way in."

Bill Faversham, Clay's manager of record and one of the 11 businessmen who sponsor the cocky third-ranked heavyweight, was equally indifferent to fan reaction.

"There was more applause last night than usual," he cracked. "Most of the time they boo so loud you can hardly hear the announcer."

Although many grumbling fans felt Powell was overmatched, Faversham thought otherwise.

"Powell was in the best shape of his career," said Faversham, vice president of a Louisville distilling company.

"He was just not fast enough for our boy. He underestimated Cassius. He saw that he couldn't beat him to the punch so he went for that one shotter with a left hook. He was willing to take a chance and get hit so that he could try to end the fight with one punch."

Powell's manager, Suey Welch, who had proclaimed prior to the battle that his fighter's experience and power would overcome Clay's speed, was almost as disenchanted with the outcome as a ringside ticket holder.

"My boy froze up, he couldn't throw any punches," Welch remarked. "He couldn't get out of his own way. I hope he goes back to playing pro football."

Both Faversham and Clay think Cassius's March 13 bout against fifth-ranked Doug Jones in New York will be the toughest figth of his career.

"Jones is rugged," Faversham said. "He can take it and dish it out. I saw him against Harold Johnson and Zora Folley last year and he looked tremendous both times."

Clay, still trying to maintain his image as the greatest prophet boxing has ever known, says:

"Jones must fall in six. I'm the fastest, toughest and best looking heavyweight on two feet. I have the talent to whip any man and control the round. I know I've got the world shook."

Liston Will Start Working For Bout

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)— Heavyweight boxing champion Sonny Liston will start training here Feb. 14 for his title fight with Floyd Patterson April 4.

Their bout has been scheduled for the Miami Beach Convention Hall.

The fight contract is expected to be signed early next week either in New York or Philadelphia.

BUCKY HARRIS, one-time "boy wonder" manager of the Washington Senators, poses at the new District of Columbia stadium after he was named a top aide to General Manager George Selkirk, left, of the Washington club. It was in 1924 that Harris — playing second base — took over as manager and led the Senators to an American League pennant. Washington went on to take the World Series, defeating the New York Giants. PSYCHOLOGICAL BOOST

Senators Hire Harris; Attempt To Shake 10th

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Senators got at least a psychological boost Friday when they hired Bucky Harris in their struggle to escape 10th place in the American League.

The 66-year-old Harris won two pennants and a world's championship as "boy wonder" manager and second baseman with the old Senators in 1924-25.

He never has been associated with a last place team in more than 40 years as player, manager and business executive.

General Manager George Selkirk said Harris would be one of his top aides for player evaluation and special assignments.

"We need another man with exceptional ability to appraise talent," Selkirk said, adding that Harris would work with chief scout Jack Sheehan.

Harris held a similar job the past two seasons with the Chicago White Sox. Specifically, his new job will involve scouting major league teams in Florida during spring training and working out of Washington during the season evaluating players on the major league level.

The old Senators changed their names to Twins and fled to Minnesota two years ago and the hastily assembled new ball club wound up last both seasons.

Ed Doherty, general manager for the two disastrous seasons, was fired last fall and Selkirk hired to replace him.

Harris was known as a rugged competitor in 1924 when the late Clark Griffith named him player-manager. He responded by winning a pennant, then whipping John McGraw's New York Giants in the World Series.

He won a second pennant in 1925, but lost the Series to Pittsburgh. In all, Harris managed Washington 18 of his 29 years as a major league manager—1924-28, 1935-42 and 1950-54.

He also managed Detroit seven years, the New York Yankees two and the Boston Red Sox and Philadelphia Phillies each one year.

In New York, Harris won a pennant and World Series with the Yankees in 1947 but was fired after slipping to third place in 1948.

Since his last managing assignment in Detroit in 1956, Harris has been associated with the front office. In 1957-58, he was a special assistant to Red Sox General Manager Joe Cronin.

When Cronin was elected president of the American League, Harris took over as general manager for two years before moving to the White Sox.

He quit the White Sox organization when the club insisted that key personnel live in the Chicago area. Harris has his home in nearby Kensington, Md.

JONESBORO NEXT

Tigers Slaughter Tornadoes, 69-13

Neville High picked up win number 22 here Friday night with a non - thrilling, 69-13, victory over the Haynesville Tornadoes.

The district victory gives Neville a 2-1 mark and sets the stage for Coach Bennie Hollis' club to meet powerful Jonesboro Tuesday night. Next week both the Jonesboro and Ruston game, which is slated for Friday night, will be played at Neville's gym.

The victory over Haynesville touched on the wrealm of ridiculous as Neville racked up 16 straight points before the visitors managed to score.

Haynesville was able to score only two points in each of the first three periods before it finally got "hot" and scored seven in the last period.

After one quarter the score was 18-2, at halftime it was, 32-4, and going into the last period the score read, 54-6.

Hollis played his first team for the first half and part of the third quarter before turning it over to the second and third teams.

Randall Fallin poked in 14 points on seven field goals to take top scoring honors. He was followed by Malcolm Smith and Bill Davis with 12 each.

Smith, who has turned into a top rebounding performer, again was tops in the department as he grabbed 19.

Neville's "B" squad also came away with a win. The young Tigers topped Haynesville, 29-21.

LaVelle Thomas West Carroll Dixie President

OAK GROVE (Special) — At a recent meeting of the West Carroll Dixie Youth Baseball Ralph W. Moore of Oak Grove declined re - election as the leagues president. LaVelle Thomas, league vice president, was named to succeed him by members of the board of directors. The league was organized in 1956 - then known as West Carroll Little Boys Baseball - with Moore its primary organizer and its first president.

A. H. Head, of Pioneer, was named vice - president, and Tom H. Brackett, of Oak Grove, secretary. French B. Jones, Jack Danley, Mr. Moore, Walter Harris, Sidney Barnett, and A. C. Fryday were elected to the board of directors for the current year.

Directors ending terms of service were J. K. Roberts, Bryant Joyce, Clinton Head and Sheriff Butler.

A resolution citing Mr. Moore's accomplishments and contribution to the program and expressing appreciation and gratitude was unanimously passed.

It stated in part: ". . . the board of directors . . . wishes to point out publicly that Mr. Moore has served this organization as president since it was organized in 1956; that he was the primary leader in the move to organize youth baseball.

"And, further, that he was directly responsible during the second year of this program's existence of broadening it so that boys of additional ages received the opportunity of participating in baseball "And, further, that he has throughout his tenure of office as president of this organization given unstintingly of his time, energy and talents, thereby contributing in large measure to its success; that he undertook to secure finances for the program, and leaves it in sound financial condition;

"Therefore be it resolved by this board of directors that this group unanimously extends its gratitude and appreciation to Mr. Moore, commending him for a job well done."

Grambling To Play Arkansas AM&N Tonight

GRAMBLING (Special) — Grambling will tackle Arkansas AM&N with a cheerful viciousness here Saturday when the bitter Southwestern Conference rivals collide in a long - awaited grude battle.

Arkansas beat the Tigers 94-77 last month to become the sole member of a select and tightly closed circle.

A capacity crowd of 4,500 spectators will jam the Grambling gym to see if the Lions can do it again.

Action is expected to be wild and wooly.

Neither coach has had much to say this week besides a few cold statements.

Lion Mentor R. O. Clemmons has been notable for his ability to accomplish startling upsets this season. Arkansas also tripped defending NAIA champion prairie view.

There was no perceptible gloom in the Grambling camp Friday.

The Tigers (15-1) are shooting for their 11th straight victory and coach Fred Hobdy feels that his squad has adequate speed, shooting, pose and confidence.

The tip - off is scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

Carroll High of Monroe will test Washington High of Lake Charles in a 6:30 preliminary game.

Recreation Basketball

First Baptist defeated Trinity Baptist, 45-37, and College Place "A" nosed out Liberty of Calhoun, 31-29, in Church "A" League action of the Monroe Recreation department's winter basketball play here Friday night. College Place "B" claimed a default from West Monroe Baptist in the same circuit.

Maroney's 16 points led the First Baptist victory, but McGuffee of Trinity was the game's high scorer with 20. The losers also produced the game's high scorer in the College Place-Liberty scrap when Bill Calhoun bagged ten for the Calhoun quint. Eddie McGowan led C. P. with nine.

In a Lee girls league game, the Giants downed the Globetrotters, 4-2, and the Sparkplugs got by the Rams, 8-4.

In Bantam League play, the Leopadks raced over the Owls, 43-9, with Faucett's 13 leading the way. Strawn got three for the losers.

The Tigers got by the Hawks, 14-11, on Walker's nine points. Osborne hit four for the losers.

The Bears won over the Eagles in the only other Bantam league affair as Miller netted eight points. Tidwell got nine for the losers.

Central Baptist, Southside Methodist and Highland Park scored victories in the Church "B" League games, Central routing Winnsboro Road Baptist, 40-28, Southside taking College Place Baptist, 32-24, and Highland Park thumping Fair Park Baptist, 49-25.

Newman, with 17 points, led the Church "B" scorers for Central. Other team leaders in the "B" circuit were Vinson, Highland Park, 14; Barnes, Winnsboro Road, 12; and Scotts, Southside Methodist, and Langridge, Fair Park, eight each.

Broncos Get Two

DENVER (AP) — The Denver Broncos of the American Football League signed two former San Diego Charger players Friday. They are Ernie Barnes, 265-pound guard, and Leonard Anderson, an end and flanker back. Both were free agents.

Ruston Passes J-H Test

RUSTON, La. (Special) — Ruston's rule as district 2-AA and Louisiana state double-A basketball champion survived a severe test from the Jonesboro-Hodge Tigers Friday night, but the Bearcats needed two overtimes to pull this one out of the fire, 51 to 49.

The J-H invaders, a serious threat to Ruston's crown, stayed ahead of the Bearcats most of the night, leading 14-9 at the quarter, 26-19 at the half, and 38-32 going into the final quarter. Regulation time ended with the score knotted at 45-45, and it was still a deadlock, 47-47, after the first overtime.

Carol Cathy led the champs with 16 points, supported by Lynn Morris' 14 and Jackson Thigpen's 13. Alden Reeves hooped 15 to lead J-H, backed by Johnny Shows and John Stevenson with 11 each.

J-H led Ruston in rebounds, 44 to 41, and made good on 17 of 48 field goal attempts while Ruston was hooping 15 of 40 field shots. Ruston made 21 of 27 foul shots, while J-H made only 16 of 25.

Davidson Wins

ST. JOSEPH (Special) — Davidson's Warriors took both ends of a cage twinbill here Friday night. The St. Joseph boys won, 50-37, over Vidalia and the girls got by the Viking sextet, 31-29, in overtime.

Jay Brown netted 16 for Davidson while Joe Stampley and Bruce Byrd each hit 10 for the losers.

Cecil Hudnell poked in 14 and Paula Miller got 12 for the winners. Judy Poole scored 18 for Vidalia.

Linville Over Dubach

DUBACH, La. (Special) — Linville High's boys' basketball team clinched a first place tie in the north zone of district 3-B Friday night by whipping the Dubach Plungers, 60-55, as Johnnie McKinnie led the way with 20 points in the scoring department, and Joe Wheeler, 6-foot-1 rebound ace, grabbed 16 rebounds to lead his specialty.

Richard Barrett was high scorer for the Plunging Rattlesnakes with 18.

Linville's varsity and junior girls' teams also won, the girls' feature going 41-29, and the junior game ending, 33-24.

Janet Pilgreen led Linville with 20 points, but Barrett, Dubach, was the game's high scorer with 21. Helen Love, Linville, and Barnett, Dubach, led the junior game with ten points apiece.

At Rayville

RAYVILLE (Special) — The final day of action begins today at 1:00 p.m. for the Richland Parish cage tournament.

Friday three games were played, two boys tilts and one girls game. The girls contest went to Mangham who defeated Holly Ridge, 65-15. Rhonda Jones netted 16 and Judy Boughton added 15 for the winners. Alice McManus hit six for Holly Ridge.

Rayville's boys got by Mangham, 46-40, with the two Gammill boys leading the way.

Charlie hit 18 while cousin Billy Ray added 14. Joe Deville scored 13 for Mangham.

Start squeezed by Holly Ridge, 40-39, in overtime for the other victory. For Start, Buddy Hardwick, who scored the winning basket in the overtime period, led the way with 12 points. The score was tied, 38-38, at the end of the game.

In today's first game, Mangham's boys take on Holly Ridge. At 2:00 Holly Ridge and Rayville meet in a freshman game which is an added attraction.

Consolation tilts start at 3:45 and 5:00, with the finals slated for 7:15 and 8:30.

Gilbert Cops Couple

GILBERT, La. (Special) — Gilbert High's boys and girls sacked Crowville in a basketball doubleheader here Friday night. The girls won, 44-32, and the boys followed with an 88-55 triumph.

Don Barton, with 30 points, led the boys to victory, and Doris Sewell collected 35 in steering the girls' win. High scorers for Crowvile were Dale Ashley and Tommy Franklin, 13 and 12 respectively, in the boys' contest, and Vonette Buchan, 21, in the girls' game.

At Enterprise

ENTERPRISE (Special) — Two girls games and three boys tilts were unreeled Friday in the Enterprise cage meet with semifinals and finals slated for today.

At 10:00 a.m. today, Harrisonburg faces Block in a girls outing and Enterprise takes on Monterey at 11:15 in the other girls game.

At 12:30, Monterey's boys play Harrisonburg and Columbia's boys take on Weston at 1:45. Consolation begins at 4:30 and finals start at 7:10.

Friday Block's sextet toppled Columbia, 51-20, on Elva McMillian's 25 tallies. Mareen Thompson netted eight for the losers. Enterprise won the other girls game, 44-26, over Central of Larto.

Geraldine McDay hit 19 for Enterprise and Glenda Book got 12 for Central.

In boys action, Columbia stopped Central 79-46, as Lanny Dark came through with 36. Wayne Sanders got 11 for the losers.

Weston defeated Block, 74-63, with the Teel brothers starring. Rickey popped in 29 and brother John got 24. Wilbert Trisler netted 29 for Block.

Monterey eased by Sicily Island, 68-67, in overtime for the other victory posted during the day. Chris Rhodes got 29 for Monterey and John Dennis drilled the nets for 39 for Sicily Island.

Jones Powers Boston Celtics To NBA Victory

BOSTON (AP) — Sam Jones' precision shooting powered the Boston Celtics to a 113-98 National Basketball Association victory over the St. Louis Hawks Friday night.

Jones, who wound up as the Celtics' high scorer with 21 points, received a big assist from Boston's vaunted fast break, which repeatedly set him up for easy shots.

The Celtics all but clinched the decision in the second period. St. Louis trailed 30-26 at the 3-minute mark of that quarter but by halftime had fallen virtually out of contention, 57-39.

Boston tallied 33 points in the second quarter and Jones, rookie John Havlicek and Frank Ramsey accounted for all but two of them.

Bob Pettit of the Hawks was the game's top scorer with 27 points, despite sitting out much of the second half.

Bob Cousy, whose early scoring gave the Celtics a lead they never surrendered, accounted for 20 points. Havlicek contributed 15 while Ramsey settled for seven as he played only long enough to break the game open.

High Ranking Illinois, No. 1 Bearcats Play

CHICAGO (AP)—The most brilliant basketball fireworks of the collegiate season will explode in the jam-packed Chicago Stadium Saturday night as the nation's top three teams are displayed before 18,000 fans.

The big attraction of the double feature is No. 1 ranked Cincinnati (14-0), regarded as a Missouri Valley Conference title shoo-in, vs No. 3 rated Illinois (12-1), heavily favored to dethrone Ohio State in the Big Ten.

The No. 2 team in the current Associated Press national poll, unbeaten Chicago Loyola (17-0), tangles in the curtain raiser with Santa Clara, which has a modest 9-4 over-all mark, but leads the West Coast Athletic Conference at 3-0.

The program is the greatest college cage fare here since the bygone days when the Illinois Whiz Kids, George Mikan-led De Paul and Bob Cousy-fired Holy Cross cavorted before packed houses in the Stadium.

To say that Arthur Morse, Loyola's assistant athletic director, captured basketball lightning in a bottle in this program is putting it mildly.

In recent years, Morse's season program dropped from a dozen or more doubleheaders to this season's half dozen shows.

But Saturday night will be the "most" for Morse.

Two-time NCAA champion Cincinnati brings the third longest major college consecutive victory skein, 32, and this season's top defensive record, an average yield of only 48.5 points.

Challenging the Bearcats of Ed Jucker will be doughty Illinois which has displayed splendid scoring balance and a fast break which should cause sparks to fly when it encounters Cincinnati's famed slow-down defense.

Illinois, boasting double-figure scoring by its five starters, has averaged 88.6 in 13 games—second nationally among major schools to Chicago Loyola's 97.7 over 17 games.

Oak Grove Boys, Forest Girls Vs. Lake Providence

LAKE PROVIDENCE, La. (Special) — Oak Grove, Forest and Lake Providence sent their teams into the finals of the Lake Providence Invitational Basketball Tournament Friday night with the host school advancing both boys and girls teams to the championship battles Saturday night.

Friday's semi final results were: Forest girls 57, Oak Grove 35; Lake Providence girls 45, Monticallo 26; Oak Grove boys 47, Pioneer 33; Lake Providence boys 41, Kilbourne 38.

The Forest and Lake Providence girls clash in the title game of their division at 7 o'clock tonight. The Oak Grove and Lake Providence boys meet at 8 o'clock.

Leading scorers in the Friday games were:

Boys — Kent Davis, Oak Grove, 16; Stewart, Pioneer, 14; Tommy Overby and Johnny Overby, Lake Providence, 11 each; Bryan Fryday, Kilbourne, 14.

Girls — Mattie Miller, Forest, 24; Hollingsworth, Oak Grove, 10; Shirley Johnson, Lake Providence, 18; Sharon Noland, Monticello, 11.

The World for WOMEN

Bridal Parties Honor Miss Veronica Hervey

Miss Veronica Ann Hervey, daughter of Mrs. Mary Muffoletto Hervey, and the late J. D. Hervey, and bride-elect of John Earl Theriot, son of Mrs. Clovis Theriot and the late Mr. Theriot, was named honoree at a miscellaneous shower given on Sunday, January 20 in the social room of the First National Bank of West Monroe.

Hostesses were Mrs. Alice Campbell, Mrs. Jerome Danna, Mrs. John F. Browne, Mrs. Florence LaCara, Mrs. S. J. Daigle, Sr., and Mrs. J. E. Campbell.

Mrs. Mary Hervey, mother of the bride-elect, Mrs. Theriot, mother of the prospective groom, Mrs. Alice Campbell, Mrs. Florence LaCara and the honoree composed the receiving line.

The tea table, covered with white net, held a ming tree with wedding bells and a bride and groom sitting under it as a centerpiece. Blue punch with a lily mold floating in it was served from a crystal bowl at one end of the table.

Assisting with the courtesies were Mrs. J. F. Browne and Mrs. Jerome Danna. Miss Pat Lynn Danna presided at the bride's book.

For the occasion, the honoree was attired in blue brocade complimented with gold and white accessories and an orchid corsage.

LINGERIE SHOWER

Thursday, January 17, Miss Hervey was honored with a lingerie shower given in the home of Miss Anita Moore, 805 Jamar Drive. Co-hostess with Miss Moore was Miss Charlene Shanas.

Greeting the guests as they arrived were Mrs. Annette Moore, Mrs. Beth Sharas, Mrs. Mary Hervey, and Miss Hervey.

The refreshment table held a massive pale pink floral arrangement and pink cake topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Fall foliage was used at focal points throughout the receiving rooms.

Miss Anita Moore poured punch, and Miss Charlene Shanas served the party pastries.

Miss Hervey wore a trousseau model of brown and biege wool accented with beige accessories and a corsage of brown and gold chrysanthemums.

Guests called between the hours of 7:30 and 9:30 p.m.

Miss Galyean Complimented In Providence

Mrs. James Robertson of Jackson, Miss., the former Miss Brenda Galyean, was complimented with a shower-coffee on Saturday morning, Jan. 19, at the home of Mrs. Walter Surles with Mrs. Gene Galyean as co-hostess.

The recent bride, wearing a beige sheath and pink carnation corsage, received with her mother, Mrs. Eugene Galyean, Lake Providence, and her grandmother, Mrs. W. O. Galyean of Oak Grove.

A focal point in the living room was the mantel embanked with pink cedar above an open fire. A string of angel lights outlined a setting of spring blossoms which formed a trellis with a white dove perched on either side and was reflected in the Viennese mirror. On the coffee table was featured a bridal scene with a doll in full wedding apparel and surrounded by pink cedar, rose buds and tulle. Placed at vantage points about the room were dainty, frilly parasols and miniature rice bags.

Miss Tommie Madden and Miss Eugenia Surles alternated at the register table.

At one end of the dining room a large pink, be-ribboned umbrella, anchored atop a white wicker tea table, held many useful gifts. Miss Blondelle Surles assisted in opening and displaying gifts, ribbons and bows of which were arranged in a heart shaped net pillow-top to form a unique keepsake for the honoree.

The lace covered refreshment table was centered with an arrangement of pink carnations in a low cutglass bowl, flanked by pink candles. Silver trays held a variety of party cakes. Miss Linda Howard presided at the silver coffee service.

Some forty-five guests called from 9 to 11 o'clock.

Farmerville Scene Of Rehearsal Dinner Party

Miss Wanda Sue Elkins, daughter of Mrs. Roye Elkins and the late Mr. Elkins, whose marriage to John Jerry Williams was solemnized on Saturday, January 12, was honor guest along with her fiance at a dinner party given, following the rehearsal of their wedding on Friday, January 11.

Hosts were Mayor and Mrs. J. Clyde Williams, parents of the groom. Guests were greeted at the entrance by Mr. and Mrs. Williams, Sr.

The bride's table, overlaid with a white linen cut-work cloth, held a centerpiece of pink perfection carnations overflowing in a silver bowl and surrounded by burning white tapers in a silver circle container. A color scheme of pink and green was noted in all appointments. Glossy Kenilworth ivy in classic containers was placed in several places about the entertaining room.

Those sharing this affair with the hosts and honor guests were: Mr. and Mrs. James Elkins and children, Phillip and Janice, of Baton Rouge, Mr. Royce Dean Elkins of New Orleans; Mr. Billy Jackson, Buddy Dowdy and Miss Ann Cheatham of Springhill; Miss June Thomas, of Monroe, Jack and Terri Williams of Springhill, Mrs. Roy Elkins, Reverend and Mrs. Luther B. Hall, Miss Judy Adams, Max Williams, Miss Judy Armor and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Williams Sr. of Farmerville.

The prospective bride and bridegroom chose this time to present their attendants with lovely gifts.

Sterlington HDC Holds Regular Meet

The following leader reports were given: Consumer Education, Mrs. S. O. Sharp; Gardening, Mrs. J. R. Williams.

A special interest meeting on sewing will be held on February 1st at the Agricultural Building.

Mrs. Spencer conducted the recreation with the prize being won by Mrs. S. O. Sharp. The hostess prize was drawn by Mrs. Harold Williams.

The hostess served refreshments to Mrs. Dawson and the following members: Mesdames Harold Williams, O. H. Manhart, A. F. Stonehart, D. W. Layburn, S. O. Sharp, A. D. Riley, Frank Mardis, B. W. Wall, C. R. Alexander, J. R. Williams, and D. B. Glenn.

The club will meet on February 15th in the home of Mrs. D. B. Glenn.

Miss Driskell Honor Guest At Meeting

Miss Hermoine Driskell, of Monroe, La., state president of Kappa Kappa Iota, social sorority for teachers, was the guest of honor on Tuesday night, Jan. 22, when Rho Conclave of East-West Carroll Parishes met at a Lake Providence restaurant. Accompanying Miss Driskell was Miss Marie Minard, also of Monroe, member of Delta Conclave. The state president was presented with a gift and a corsage by the local president, Mrs. Jessie Jean Gill, who also presided at the business session.

Miss Driskell announced the state convention for the sorority, which will be held in Monroe on April 27. She informed the local members on various projects sponsored by the other conclaves, and displayed the state scrapbook which had won second place in national competition.

Following the serving of the meal, two new members, Mrs. Thelma Clement of Lake Providence, and Mrs. Iola Neal of Epps, were initiated into the order. Initiating officers were Miss Driskell, Mrs. Mildred Patterson, Mrs. Mildred Muirhead, Mrs. Georgia Payne Pinkston, Mrs. Louisa O'Steen and Mrs. Kay Russell.

Mrs. Muirhead, president of Louisiana Teachers Association, was presented with a KKI pin by the members. There were 21 members in attendance from Lake Providence and Epps.

Announcement Tea For Miss Linda Howard

Miss Linda Howard, bride-elect of the Rev. William Robert Senter, was complimented with an engagement tea given Saturday, in the R. K. Howard home in Lake Providence. Hostesses for the party were the honoree's aunts, Miss Eunyce Howard, Mrs. J. R. Howard and Mrs. H. E. Howard.

Miss Howard, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Keener Howard of Lake Providence, and the Rev. Senter, son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Senter, Jr. of Chattanooga, Tenn., are to be married on Feb. 9 at Grace Episcopal Church in Lake Providence.

For her party, the honoree chose a beige silk shirtwaist model with pleated skirt and matching accessories. She wore a white carnation corsage.

Potted white and yellow chrysanthemums were placed at vantage points about the living room where Miss Eunyce Howard welcomed guests at the door. The honoree received with her mother, Mrs. Keener Howard, and the other hostesses. Presiding at the bride's book was Miss Kay Mulheim of Monroe, and Miss Toni Manning of Lake Providence.

The tea table, covered with a linen cut-work cloth, was centered with an arrangement of white stock in a silver Paul Revere bowl, flanked by white tapers in silver candlesticks. A silver punch bowl was placed on one end of the table, and a silver coffee service on the other. Presiding at the punch bowl were Miss Penny Howard and Miss Carol Howard. Alternating at the coffee service were Mrs. Wallace Oliver and Miss June Barry. Misses Nancy and Susan Howard were tea girls and floating hostesses were Mrs. Raymond Johns and Mrs. Ben Mulheim of Monroe. Assisting in the courtesies were Mrs. Sam House Jr., Mrs. C. T. Hall and Mrs. Ernest Ouzts.

A host of friends called during the appointed hours.

Hints From HELOISE

LETTERS OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE:

Please tell me, do other wives hate housework as much as I do? I'm being cooped up and am minus companionship for long periods of time.

If I live to be a million . . . I will never grow to like it — tolerance is the best that I can do.

HELOISE FAN

DEAR FAN:

Glory be, how I love you. You put it in such simple words . . .

We all hate housework!

It is boring. It is repetitious. It is disgusting. It is belittling. It is degrading.

I hate it too!

But we all gotta do it!

Look at it this way: It is something that many women do not have. Be grateful for it.

I do not tell you how to be grateful because I am not grateful either! I hate it myself!

I detest making beds and washing dishes. But I know I have to do it so . . . I do this by telling myself that at least I am getting something distasteful out of the way.

At least my beds are made and the dishes are done.

According to my letters, 90 per cent of women hate this job. We know, you know it and I know it.

So . . . we know as long as we sleep in a bed and eat we still have to make beds and wash dishes. So . . . do it with the thought in your mind that you are building character.

Use the beat-the-bell method or beat-the-coffee-pot method, which means put your coffee pot on or set the timer on your stove for not more than ten minutes — and then try to get those beds made and the dishes washed before that bell goes off or the coffee is ready to drink.

I love you always,

HELOISE

P. S. My mother told me when I was a little girl that I was "building character," when I had to wash the dishes — I hated it at the time but now I know she was preparing me for the future.

---

DEAR HELOISE:

I add one half cup of borax, baking soda (or a product made especially for soaking diapers) to a gallon of lukewarm water in which I soak my baby's diapers.

By adding a few soap chips to the solution (especially the deodorant soap variety) I have found that the odor will disappear almost entirely.

This is also a good way to get rid of those small pieces of soap that just clog up our drains.

The baby's morning diaper will be the one containing the most ammonia — after he has worn it all night. I give this diaper a quick rinse in hot water before tossing into the pail.

Your Problems

Girl Complains Because Parents Like Boyfriend

By Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Some teenage girls complain because their parents don't like the boy with whom they are going steady. My problem is the opposite. My mother likes my boy friend too much and I wish she'd cut it out.

Whenever Bruce calls on the phone and my mother answers she hangs on for about 20 minutes. She knows very well he didn't call to talk to her, so why does she do it?

My mother is young - looking and has a knockout figure. She loves to dance and is very good. She is always asking Bruce to dance with her and of course he can't refuse. When they dance I get so annoyed I leave the room.

If there is something wrong with my attitude please tell me and I'll try to do better. — MAYBE JEALOUS

DEAR MAYBE: Girls with young mothers often have the same feelings you expressed in your letter. Tell your mother how you feel instead of boiling inside and smiling outside.

It is not uncommon for mothers to try to relive their youth through their daughters. If she knew the effect this was having on you I think she'd behave differently. In any event, tell her — and good luck.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband's brother recently insisted that his wife divorce him because he wants to marry another woman. She agreed, rather than become involved in an ugly mess.

During the 12 years of their marriage she was grand to me and my family. I count her as a dear friend, and see no reason why the divorce should have any effect on our relationship.

My husband feels I should not associate with her any longer on grounds it would be an act of disloyalty to his brother. Am I supposed to behave toward this woman as though she had chicken pox? I would appreciate your counsel. — BEWILDERED

DEAR BEWILDERED: What happened between your husband's brother and his wife should have no bearing on your friendship.

Of course you would not invite her to your home when her ex-husband is present, but any other time would be fine.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I accepted an engagement ring in May. The following August my fiance suffered a slight stroke. He seemed to make a good recovery and then had a relapse. Now, he is like a different man.

Everything I say is twisted and we end up in a bitter argument. He is accusatory and demanding. I get a nervous stomach from being in his company for an evening. I realize he is not well and that his illness is depressing, but I don't think it's fair of him to take his frustrations out on me.

I've had one unsuccessful marriage and I don't want another one. He is 45. I am 38. He says things will be better if we are married. His family feels I would be a dirty dog to break up with him now that he is not well. My conscience is bothering me and I don't know what to do. I need your guidance. — AFRAID

DEAR AFRAID: An engagement is not a marriage. It is a period which both parties decide whether or not they want to spend the rest of their lives together.

You are not getting along well with this man and marriage to him would probably be a catastrophe.

Confidential to Treading Lightly: Poor my eye. Soap and water is cheap. Tell her.

Confidential to Needing Privacy: A 14-year-old girl should not have to put up with such tomfoolery. Tell your mother to get a bolt for your door — and the sooner the better.

IN CONCORDIA PARISH

Jury's 'No-Flag' Policy Protested

VIDALIA (Special) — A Catholic Church society has joined the protest against the Concordia Parish Police Jury's current "no flag" policy.

The jury flew the Confederate flag above the courthouse for weeks during and after the Ole Miss integration crisis. There were protests. Down came the Stars and Bars, but instead of raising the Stars and Stripes once again, the flag pole has been left bare.

The Holy Name Society of Our Lady of Lourdes Catholic Church is protesting "the present unpatriotic practice."

The society, in a letter to the jury, said that it had adopted a resolution in December asking the jury to raise the Stars and Stripes again, but held it back because "it was hoped that the absence of the Confederate flag during this period might be an indication that the flag of the United States of America would soon be returned to its proper place of respect and dignity."

The society noted however, that now, late in January, the U. S. flag still has not been raised again. "Since the situation that existed for the period of approximately two months prior to Dec. 9, 1962 still exists today, we are submitting our resolution and we urge your kind consideration."

The society explained that it meant "no offense to the Confederate flag" but feels that "the flag of our country should be flown in front of the courthouse."

Cotton Group Names Gilfoil As President

LAKE PROVIDENCE (Special) — The American Cotton Producer Associates has named J. H. Gilfoil III of Lake Providence, as its president.

Gilfoil represents the Louisiana Delta Council. The ACPA represents cotton producer groups in the states of North Carolina, Tennessee, Missouri, Arkansas, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas and California.

Gilfoil, as new president, said that, "Cotton's key place in domestic and export markets and on our farms is such that threats to its future have implications much beyond the industry and associated sectors.

"Recognition must therefore be given cotton as an income earner for 800,000 farmers, the source of employment for some 14 - million people and the provider of low - cost fiber needs for unnumbered millions of consumers.

Stone-Placing At Courthouse Slated In Area

WINNFIELD (Special) — The cornerstone for the new $750,000 Winn Parish Courthouse will be laid 2 p.m. Sunday by the Grand Lodge of Louisiana, Free and Accepted Masons, with three Winn Parish lodges serving as hosts.

They include Eastern Star Lodge No. 151 of Winnfield, Rosemary Lodge No. 238 of Sikes and Calvin Lodge 431.

A copper canister will be placed in stone and will contain a Bible, a list of officers of the Grand Lodge, current handbook of Masonic law, Lauisiana Monitor.

Also, current lodge proceedings, 1962 proof set of U. S. coins, including penny, nickel, dime, quarter and half - dollar, copy of the program of the 100th celebration of Eastern Star Lodge No. 151, and a copy of the January 24, 1963 issue of the Winn Parish Enterprise — News-American.

Warren W. Allen of Eastern Star Lodge No. 151, will serve as master of ceremonies.

Harwell Allen, judge of the Eighth Judicial District, will deliver the welcome address. Open house is scheduled from 2:15 p.m. until 5 p.m.

Two Are Injured In 4-Car Wreck

GONZALES, La. (AP) —State troopers said two persons were injured in a four-car smashup on the Airline Highway here after a state official drove the wrong way in a southbound lane.

Officers identified the official as Sidney McCrory, 51, executive director of the Louisiana Liquefied Petroleum Gas Commission.

The troopers said Elvin C. Simpson, 35, Prairieville, and James J. Palmer, 41, Harahan, were injured in the accident Thursday.

There Will Be A Wonderful World Ahead

By PAUL STEINER

Women's News Service

The year ahead and the years beyond will be strange and wonderful, according to this roundup of prognostications and predictions by Paul Steiner, the noted rounder-upper of soothsayings.

Henry C. Roberts, translator and interpretor of Nostradamus, famous French prognosticator, says 1963 will be the year in which an American woman will come on the scene, "equalling Catherine de Medici, Queen of France, in influence and political power." Roberts says the writings of Nostradamus also reveal that the cold war will last until 1999, when the whole world will unite to repel an invasion from Mars.

Experts attending a joint European and American Space Strategy Conference predict that the farewell kiss among couples taking off for other planets will be officially discouraged because of the danger of spreading germs and raising emotional temperatures before flight time.

---

Milady's watch of the future will be a marvel of accuracy, experts say. Electronic impulses beamed from Greenwich, England, will be picked up by receivers which will act as regulators in the watch.

---

In 10 years 100-pound turkeys will be commonplace, agriculturists say.

---

Virginia Graham, a beauty expert, predicts that within three years as many men as women will be dyeing their hair.

---

Dr. Gyula Denes, a psychodrama therapist, forecasts that American males will become more like European males: polite, tender, sentimental.

---

A British scientist says that within 10 years his colleagues will have perfected a robot capable of doing all the housework.

---

Houses of the future will literally be stitched together in a matter of minutes on the site of your choice, predict engineers of one of the largest manufacturers of industrial fastening equipment.

---

Sprays, safe to use with all kinds of food, will ultimately be used to spray ice cube trays, allowing the cubes to pop readily.

---

The family of the future will get its milk from weeds, cabbage leaves and pea pods, instead of from cows. British scientists have already succeeded in fabricating milk by extracting proteins from green leaves, then adding vitamins, minerals and vegetable fats. The still - remaining problem: how to eliminate completely the slight vegetable flavor.

---

Mrs. Fred J. Tooze, president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, predicts that prohibition will make a comeback in 10 years or so, "even though a lot of people call me and my members 'little old ladies in witches' hats.' "

THIS WAS THE CIVIL WAR

By MERTON T. AKERS
United Press International

The commander-in-chief of the United States issued General War Order No. 1 on Jan. 27, 1862.

The first sentence read:

ORDERED: That the 22nd day of February 1862 be the day for a general movement of all the land and naval forces of the United States against the insurgent forces."

It was signed "Abraham Lincoln."

Special War Order No. 1 followed four days later. It read:

"ORDERED: That all of the disposable force of the Army of the Potomac, after providing safety for the defense of Washington, be formed into an expedition for the immediate object of seizing and occupying a point on the railroad southwestward of what is known as Manassas Junction, all details to be in the discretion of the commander - in-chief, and the expedition to move before or on the 22nd day of February next."

This was Lincoln acting in his capacity as commander-in-chief of the Union armed forces, prodding his commanders to fight.

The general order was aimed at all of them. In the special order he drew a bead on Maj. Gen. George B. McClellan, general-in-chief of the Army.

Lincoln not only was ordering McClellan to move the Army of the Potomac against the Confederates but he also was setting the date and selecting the territory for the campaign — the overland route to Richmond across the country where the Northern forces had been defeated six months before at the battle of Bull Run (Manassas) in Virginia.

The President in effect, was superseding his generals in an effort to get on with the war.

In the 10 months since the firing on Fort Sumter, the Union army had fought four land battles of consequence. The Navy had blasted out two beachheads on the eastern Confederate coast. Of the four battles only one was a Union victory — Mill Springs.

Nearly three-quarters of a million men in the Northern armed forces were costing nearly two million dollars a day — and not fighting. The Confederacy hardly was pricked and was using the time to complete its defenses.

Yet McClellan immediately objected and submitted his own plan to strike at Richmond from the southeast along one or both of the rivers — the York and the James — which ran from Chesapeake Bay inland toward the Confederate capital.

Lincoln countered the same day — apparently before he read McClellan's long document, saying:

"You and I have distinct and different plans for a movement of the Army of the Potomac . . .

"If you will give me satisfactory answers to the following questions, I shall gladly yield my plan to yours:

"1st. Does not your plan involve a greatly larger expenditure of time and money than mine?

"2nd. Wherein is a victory more certain by your plan than mine?

"3rd. Wherein is a victory more valuable by your plan than mine?

"4th. In fact, would it not be less valuable in this: that it would break no great line of the enemy's communications, while mine would?

"5th. In case of disaster would not a retreat be more difficult by your plan than mine?"

McClellan made no specific answers to Lincoln's questions, assuming, he wrote, that his report was answer enough.

Apparently the report eased Lincoln's mind for the President did not require execution of the special order, yet he never rescinded it.

Eventually a modified version of McClellan's plan was carried out and resulted in the Peninsular Campaign.

Across the way in a fortified camp around Manassas, Confederate Gen. Joseph E. Johnston with fewer than 50,000 soldiers, was having as many troubles with his superiors in Richmond as McClellan was having with his in Washington.

His army was being drained by the "Furlough and Bounty" act which offered one-year men a 60-day leave and $50 and other inducements if they would re-enlist for the duration of the war.

Secretary of War Judah P. Benjamin was issuing orders right and left, many without reference to Johnston.

One of these orders ran head-on into Maj. Gen. Thomas J. (Stonewall) Jackson in command of the Valley of Virginia district at Harpers Ferry and here Benjamin met his match.

Without going through Johnston, the overall commander, Benjamin ordered Jackson to withdraw Gen. William W. Loring's three brigades from Romney, in western Virginia, where "Stonewall" had left them to guard his flank.

Romney was a hardship post, the winter weather terrible. Loring's staff had composed a letter demanding a withdrawal, which he approved and forwarded it to Richmond. The letter pointed out that the force might be cut off and implied that Jackson's tactics were faulty. Benjamin acted without further check either with Johnston or Jackson.

Jackson, of course, immediately obeyed the order and then wrote to Benjamin, forwarding the letter through channels to Johnston, asking to be relieved of command and either be sent back to his professorship at Virginia Military Institute or be allowed to resign.

Johnston held up the letter and wrote back to Stonewall:

"Let me beg of you to reconsider the matter . . . the character of this war . . . require(s) sacrifices from us who have been educated as soldiers. . ."

Jackson also wrote to Gov. John Letcher of Virginia who went to work on the problem in Richmond. Ultimately Jackson agreed to remain but he later filed charges against Loring, accusing him of neglect of duty and "conduct subversive of good order and discipline." Nothing came of these. In fact, Loring was promoted to major general but he was transferred from Jackson's district and never again served with him.

Johnston, who knew he faced the 150,000-man Army of the Potomac and that it would be moving with the coming of the first signs of spring, took a long look at his position and the possible moves of the Federals.

He anticipated that one of four routes would be taken by the Federals:

1. The Manassas route (the one Lincoln was insisting upon.)

2. The overland route toward Richmond via Fredericksburg, Va., east and south of Manassas.

3 & 4. By water to the lower Rappahannock River (McClellan's choice) or to Fort Monroe and up the peninsula between the York and the James rivers toward Richmond (the one eventually chosen).

As the army lay at the moment, Johnston could not maneuver against a Rappahannock campaign.

He concluded that he must withdraw his army and concentrate to cover the Rappahannock sector. But great stores of food and war material had been accumulated at Manassas and vicinity.

Some of the supplies could be sent south on a railroad running to Richmond but many would have to be destroyed.

That was his problem and before he could solve it he had another West Pointer to deal with, President Jefferson Davis. It would be well into March with the weather bad and the roads worse before he could move.

But at that he would beat McClellan to the punch.

Why Grow Old

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

This is the time of year when the common cold grabs millions of folks and makes them miserable.

This disease is caused by a virus. In fact, studies indicate that there may be as many as 14 different cold viruses. Actually, were it not for the frequent aftermath of a cold, it would not be such a disagreeable experience.

A cold itself lasts only about three days. When symptoms linger longer and become more severe, it means that bacteria have taken over to prolong and increase your misery.

I was particularly interested in the correlation of emotional stress and the onset of colds. Dr. Franz Alexander, long associated with the Chicago Pyschoanalytic Institute believes that emotional stress weakens the respiratory tract. The late Dr. Dunbar Flanders said that emotionally disturbed children have far more colds than those who are well adjusted. It has also been found that the chronically tense have more colds. Research is continuing to establish the correlation between the emotions and the susceptibility to the common cold.

I have always observed that women are most apt to catch a cold just before the onset of their menstrual period or after an orgy of unhappiness. The glandular balance of the body is shifting just before the monthly cycle and most women also experience some premenstrual tension.

Therefore, just before the time for your period, or after an unhappy time, give yourself some extra care. Get plenty of sleep and do not become overtired.

Studies conducted by Drs. J. H. Dingle and R. G. Hodges of Western Reserve University Medical School show that women have more colds than men. At first it was thought that this was due to the fact that women are more constantly with children than men are. However, women who do not have children have as many colds as those who do.

Better 'Copters To Be Used In Viet Nam War

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Faster, better armed helicopters from the United States will step up the war against the Communist guerrillas, said informed sources Friday.

There are about 25 of the newer, heavily-armed, turbine-powered helicopters in South Viet Nam. But so far they have been used only to escort the older, slower troop-carrying helicopters.

As these combat helicopters increase in number they will take on troop-ferrying missions in the coming months, informants said.

The copters are the UH1A and the UH1B. The latter is a more powerful version of the former. With rockets and machine guns, they blast Viet Cong positions effectively. But some of them have been destroyed.

A new company of UH1B helicopters is being trained and equipped, and is expected to arrive here in March, informants said.

All American helicopter units in South Viet Nam are working around the clock, and are short of maintenance personnel. More Army mechanics are on the way to help with the load.

The troop carriers are the obsolete or obsolescent H21s and H34s. They probably will not be replaced but parts and mechanics will be sent to keep those here flying as long as possible.

Of about 120 helicopters sent here by the United States so far, 17 have been destroyed either by ground fire or in crashes.

Newsman Given Term For Not Naming Source

LONDON (UPI) — Lord Chief Justice Lord Parker of the high court Friday sentenced newsman Desmond Clough of the London Daily Sketch to six months in prison for refusing to divulge his source for stories about a convicted Soviet spy.

Clough was held in contempt by the court Thursday in the first case involving a journalist and his sources of information in British juridical history.

In passing sentence, Parker ruled that if Clough did identify his source to the special tribunal investigating spying in the Admiralty within 10 days he would suspend the prison term.

A spokesman for Clough said the case will be taken to the court of appeals. Failing there, Clough will appeal to the House of Lords, the highest appeal court in Britain.

Clough was one of three newsmen referred to the high court by the tribunal for refusing to name sources for stories they wrote about the case of Admiralty Clerk William John Vassall. Vassall, an admitted homosexual who said he was blackmailed into spying by the Russians, was convicted and sentenced to 18 years in prison.

The tribunal called on Clough to identify the government source who told him that information supplied by Bassall enabled Soviet "trawlers" to turn up at secret NATO naval maneuvers with uncanny accuracy.

Parker has expressed sympathy with Clough's position but held that the issue was one of "urgent" interest to the state and that all other interests — "private, professional" — must be subordinated.

But Clough, 34, stood firm. He said that disclosing his source would be a breach of trust and a betrayal of his profession.

"The freedom of the press would be completely undermined," Clough said. "I would be breaking a firm trust and I and all journalists feel passionately on this issue of the freedom of the press."

Left-Wing Chief Denounces Red Allies' Efforts

Rome (UPI) — Left-wing Socialist leader Pietro Nenni Friday denounced the efforts of his former Communist allies to overthrow the government of Christian Democratic Premier Amitore Fanfani.

The veteran socialist told Communist Party leader Palmiro Togliatti to put up or shut up. His challenge came during the second day of debate on a Communist motion of non-confidence in Fanfani's government.

Nenni defended the "center-left" coalition of his socialists and Christian Democrats. He told the chamber of deputies that the coalition is "substantially positive" and challenged the Communists to offer a better policy.

"The Socialist position can be criticized only by those who have an alternative policy to propose," Nenni said, "and the Communists do not have one."

Real Estate Transfers

The following real estate transfers are on record in the office of the Ouachita parish clerk of court:

Edgar Barber sold to Bertha Seaberry lot 16 of block 1 of the Hollywood Heights Subdivision in the northeast quarter of section 18, township 17 north, range 4 east, for $200 cash and assumption of a mortgage in the principal amount of $9,000.

Harold L. Whitlock sold to Troy E. Whitlock one acre in the south half of the south half of the southeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section 1, township 15 north, range 3 east, for $75.

William C. Hicks sold to Milton C. Hayden tract in lots 2 and 3 of square F of the resubdivision of the G. B. Haynes Addition to West Monroe for $900.

Jimmy Warren Todd sold to Cecil Franklin Albright lot 4 of block 1 of the Glenmar Addition for $482.66 cash and assumption of mortgage in the balance of $16,669.60.

John N. Maxwell sold to Grady Levon Brockner lot 22 of block 15 of extension No. 3 of the Lakeshore Subdivision for assumption of a mortgage originally for $14,650.

Ernest L. Venable sold to George H. and Wilma Phelps Van Natta lots 45 and 46 of block A of the resubdivision of block 3 of the Edgewater Gardens Addition to Monroe for $18,500.

Willis L. Mullican sold to Howard Hamilton Smith, Jr., lot in square 26 of D. A. Breard, Jr.'s, Home Addition for $16,800.

Frank Parks sold to Byron Broadnax lot 11 in section 5, township 18 north, range 5 east, for $4,000.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

SEWING ON DISJOINED PARTS

Headlines were made recently when a man lost his hand in an accident and surgeons sewed it back into place. This meant connecting all the disjoined blood vessels, nerves, tendons, and other structures — a difficult and time consuming operation. Speed is important because, with each passing minute, tissues die, nerve cells degenerate, and clots develop in the arteries, veins, and capillaries.

These news stories are followed by letters from readers describing experiences of their own. A woman from Chicago Heights, Ill., told of her mother whose thumb was almost chopped off when she was pre-schooler. The physician sewed it back in place. "It left a horrible scar and was a little stiff, but usable."

This is not uncommon but as a rule the tip of the digit is cut and in the case just mentioned, the part is not severed completely. The small piece of connecting skin or tissue may carry enough blood to nourish the part until healing occurs.

I worked in a first aid station when I was a senior medical student. A man came in with his ear dangling by a few shreds and I sewed it back in place. It "took" but my work went for nought because the man was injured fatally four months later when he attempted to even the score.

Mrs. M. M. writes: "Recently you had an article on a new hot water cure for warts. My 11 year old son started the treatment the next day. He had at least 40 warts, large and small, on his hands. Two weeks after he started soaking the hands in hot water each night, we could see a change. He continued the procedure, but just two or three times a week, and his warts have all disappeared."

It is difficult to evaluate any wart treatment because suggestion also enters the picture. It is surprising how often these lesions disappear with a little hocus - pocus. On the other hand, heat alters the growth of tumors and should affect warts also. The use of ultrasound waves is another wart remedy that was introduced recently.

MEAL SCHEDULES

C. J. writes: How much time should there be between meals, and is the body affected by eating meals too close together?

REPLY

There is no set time. In the animal kingdom, eating when hungry is the rule. Our present schedule are man made and coincide with the hours when we become hungry. We all know individuals who thrive on two meals a day, a few on only one, and others on four or five. It is an individual problem which we fit into our scheme of living.

SCAR TISSUE

M. S. writes: What causes adhesions after surgery?

REPLY

Adhesions represent scar tissue that develops over areas that were irritated or infected. They rarely cause trouble unless an abdominal scar pulls on the intestine, causing a kink or obstruction. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on this subject.

EAT WHAT AGREES

B. A. writes: Are there certain foods, such as cabbage and onions, a person cannot eat after having the gall bladder removed?

REPLY

Only if the individual has an idosyncrasy to these foods that is unrelated to the gall bladder condition.

NOT SO EASY

F. S. writes: Can a urine test determine whether a person is sane or insane?

REPLY

No, and it probably is just as well that such a test is not available.

Public Lands Law Revision Asked By JFK

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy called Friday for a "comprehensive revision" of laws involving use and disposal of public lands.

He said in a letter to Rep. Wayne N. Aspinall, D-Colo., chairman of the House Interior Committee, that the existing laws are outmoded and much too voluminous.

Because of "uncoordinated and disjointed" statutes which contain conflicts and inconsistencies, Kennedy said, the executive branch of government has had to rely on its own opinions in order to provide orderly management.

He said administrative decisions have been subject to congressional review, and that the two branches of government generally have agreed on actions respecting public lands. But he agreed with Aspinall's proposal that new guidelines be drawn.

West German Plan To Be Considered

BONN, Germany (AP) — West Germany will present a plan to keep alive Britain's attempts to enter the Common Market and France has agreed to consider it, a government spokesman said Friday.

Officials said Chancellor Konrad Adenauer had yielded to heavy pressure inside his government to make action in support of Britain and head off a disastrous rupture in the Western Alliance.

The dangers of a split over France's resistance to Britain's entry were underscored for the second straight day among the Common Market partners.

Foreign Minister Josef Luns of the Netherlands said the possibility of the other five members preparing a draft treaty with Britain was being investigated "but all sorts of legal puzzles are involved."

Under the Treaty of Rome binding France, West Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg in a closed trading bloc, any one nation can veto an application for membership. Thus France can act alone. This may be one of the legal headaches Luns was talking about in a radio interview in the Dutch town of Hilversum.

Only the day before, Belgium had warned that the flourishing trading bloc might be wrecked by the French stand.

The West German proposal will be presented Monday when ministers of the Common Market nations are slated to assemble in Brussels, the Belgian capital.

Details were top secret, but officials said it went well beyond a mere inventory of the talks with Britain so far—a suggestion made by Adenauer in Paris this week to provide a cooling-off period.

After debating the proposal Friday night, the West German Cabinet issued a statement saying all members agreed that Britain's entry into the Common Market was necessary on economic and political grounds.

The statement declared the Brussels talks "can and should be continued with the object of obtaining a positive result." It added that the government was in consultation with France and other Common Market nations on the issue.

Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder was said to be leading a group of influential Cabinet and Parliament members demanding action to help Britain in the face of French President Charles de Gaulle's determination to break off the Brussels negotiations.

Schroeder was said to have been outspokenly insistent, without encountering strong opposition from Chancellor.

Schroeder has consistently favored British entry in the past and publicly contradicted Adenauer. The chancellor has shown less enthusiasm and has expressed opinions which made him seem to side at least in some aspects with De Gaulle.

Schroeder was understood to be extremely disappointed at the manner in which Adenauer intervened with De Gaulle at their Paris meeting this week.

Authoritative sources said although Adenauer did bring up the subject of British entry, Schroeder felt it was done in such a way as to convince De Gaulle that the chancellor also was against it.

Officials were saying privately that Schroeder felt that the best way out of the dilemma at present is to leave the door open, wait for Adenauer's retirement expected in September and then make a new start.

Schroeder was understood to be pushing for quick parliamentary ratification of the new French-German treaty of cooperation because he felt this could be used as a lever to get De Gaulle to ease his stand.

Adenauer also is pushing for speedy ratification of the treaty. But some diplomats said they felt the chancellor is viewing the treaty as the basis for a European community that Paris and Bonn can dominate.

In Berlin, Walter Hallstein, executive head of the Common Market Commission, praised associate membership status in the Common Market. This sort of status is what De Gaulle has suggested for Britain. The British insist on full membership.

French-American Settlement Sought

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

NEWS ANALYSIS

French officials in the United States have been keeping the telephone lines busy between Washington, New York and Paris, and a guess is that something is being worked out in an effort to take some of the heat out of French-American relations.

Jean Monnet, who gave up his official connections several years ago in order to devote his full time to the promotion of European unity, left for home Thursday almost before the dishes were washed after a big dinner in his honor in New York.

The activity began before President Kennedy showed publicly his irritation with the policies of French president Charles de Gaulle, and before he re-emphasized the American intention to defend Europe at all costs.

West Germany may provide the opening, perhaps by advance arrangement with the French, at Brussels Monday. Her president, reiterating Bonn's favor for British entry into the Common Market said that "French-German friendship, which lies close to our heart, should make no difficulties in this, and in no case disturb our cooperation with the United States."

---

Recurrent and always casual talk about the possibilities of a marriage between the United States and Canada is being revived. Much reaction is that the two countries always get along so well, in a general way, why bother with all the difficulties which a hardcore campaign for union would produce?

Especially obvious at the moment is the French-British ethnic differences in Canada at a time when there are also French-British-American policy differences.

Nevertheless, the discussion of British entry into the European Common Market, with all the reorientation that would mean, has brought to mind in Australia and New Zealand, as well as in Canada the naturalness of some of their associations with the United States.

Some excitement has been caused by reports of an increased Soviet buildup of military power in Cuba, which President Kennedy discounts. Nevertheless, in the face of great forces and great differences at work in both the Communist and non-Communist worlds, Cuba drops back into the role of a minor irritant—a pimple on an elephant's hide.

Prime Minister Nehru is being accused in some quarters of softening India's determination to take back her Chinese-occupied territory, by agreeing to the Colombo plan. Actually, if China agrees to the plan, she will be doing most of the backing down. Since she won't do that, Nehru is able to take a moderate position without yielding any major Indian interest more than temporarily.

---

Whatever happens in the Congo now, it will be better than if one of the big powers had attempted unilateral pacification. And the Congo can expect economic and political benefits under the responsibility which the United Nations incurred when it took military action.

More Berthing Facilities For Subs Needed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department said Friday the United States will be in the market for additional berthing facilities for Polaris submarines as its Polaris fleet grows.

A department spokesman declined to say, however, which countries, if any, the United States has approached for possible Polaris berthing rights.

The statement was made during a news conference discussion of U.S. military bases agreements with Spain.

President Kennedy told his news conference Thursday the United States plans to replace U.S. Jupiter missiles in Italy and Turkey with Polaris submarines, which he said would provide "more adequate security."

Formal Order Is Issued In Barnett Case

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The federal appeals court issued a formal order Friday directing opposing attorneys in the Gov. Ross Barnett contempt case to file any motions or pleas in the case before Feb. 1.

The Mississippi governor and Lt. Gov. Paul B. Johnson have been ordered to show at a hearing Feb. 8 why they should not be held in criminal contempt for trying to block Negro James H. Meredith's enrollment at the University of Mississippi.

The Justice Department instituted the criminal contempt proceedings at the direction of the 5th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals here.

Friday's order referred to an earlier request, in the form of a letter from the court's clerk, asking for written motions or pleas in advance of the hearing.

The appeals court already has held Barnett and Johnson in civil contempt for their attempts to block Meredith in defiance of federal court orders. It set the penalty at imprisonment and daily fines of $10,000 until they purge themselves of contempt, but never has imposed any penalty.

In a criminal contempt case, a defendant may be fined or sentenced for acts of contempt without the possibility of escaping any part of the penalty by purging himself of contempt.

CRASH KILLS FIVE

ROCKHAMPTON, Australia — (UPI) — Five members of a family of six were killed Friday when their car collided with a freight train at a grade crossing. The sole survivor, 7-year-old Peter Nicholson, escaped with minor injuries in the crash that killed his mother, father, two sisters and a brother.

'JUST RIGHT-VERY COOL'

Russia's Brumel Called Iron Man

NEW YORK (AP)—It's Valery Brumel's steel nerve and not the spring in his legs which make him the world's greatest high jumper, the Soviet Union's Olympic coach said Friday.

"He is like no athlete I have ever seen," big, bespectacled Gabriel Korobkov said in almost impeccable English. "He is an iron man. Nothing bothers him.

"Valery is always on a level plane emotionally, like this—" he gestured with his hands. "Never too high, never too low. He does not get tense or tight. He does not get overly excited. He is always just right—very cool."

Korobkov and three of Russia's outstanding track and field stars—Brumel, broad-jumper Igor Ter-Ovanesyan and middle distance runner Valery Bulishev—were in town Friday, preparing for a series of four indoor meets.

They will begin their American campaign in the Millrose Games at Madison Square Garden next Friday night, go west for the Los Angeles Times meet Feb. 9 and then return for the New York A.C. carnival Feb. 15 and the AAU Indoor Championships Feb. 23.

The handsome 6-foot-1 Brumel, who speaks a little English, was asked if he expected to improve on his world record of 7 feet, 5⅛ inches.

The 20-year-old Russian student shook his fur-capped head "no" and added:

"I will be happy with 7-2."

Korobkov hastily explained that peak performances cannot be expected of the Russian athletes because this is off-season for them and they are not accustomed to working on boards.

"You see, our season does not begin until next May," the coach said. "We do not have anything similar to your indoor season. I think these boys will do very well but I would be disappointed myself if they reached top form at this time. It would mean they would drop off for our season next spring."

Ter-Ovanesyan, also a student, will be attempting to improve on his world broad jump mark of 27 feet, 3 inches while Bulishev will be competing in the middle distances. Bulishev is the European 800 meter champion.

"How far Igor will jump will depend on how much of a runway he will have," Korobkov said. "Bulishev has a bad cold. We are accustomed to cold weather but it is a dry kind of cold—not as much moisture as here."

The three Russian athletes took an unchaperoned stroll through New York's midtown section before lunch, planned to visit museums and observatories in the afternoon and work out after dinner.

"They are very interested in cultural things such as museums and concerts," the Russian coach said, "but they are not strictly what you call highbrow.

"They very much enjoy your television westerns—all that shooting and chasing Indians. But it is more a form of relaxation. They don't get excited about the cowboy shows. They think they are funny."

Former Local Southern Bell Manager Dies

Funeral services for Lonnie Clark, former Monroe district manager for Southern Bell Telephone Co., will be held Sunday in New Orleans.

Mr. Clark, 67, died in New Orleans Friday. He had served as manager for Southern Bell in the Monroe district from 1946 to 1953. He retired in 1958 and resided at 6215 St. Charles Ave. in New Orleans.

A native of Claiborne, Miss., Mr. Clark began his telephone career at Port Gibson, Miss., in 1910 at the age of 15. He later served as a telephone company manager in several towns in both Mississippi and Louisiana before his appointment to the Monroe position.

Mr. Clark left Monroe in 1953 to become a special representative at the company's Louisiana headquarters office in New Orleans.

Services will be held at the Bultman Funeral Home in New Orleans at 2:30 p.m.

Survivors include his widow, an adopted son and two grandchildren, all of New Orleans.

Advancement Fund Legality Is Challenged

In a joint statement issued Friday, Monroe contractors W. C. Salley and Lamar Moore challenged the legality of contributions to an industry advancement fund and maintained that such payments will result in increased construction costs in the entire fifth district.

The contractors referred to the fund which is part of contracts negotiated earlier this month between four major unions and the Associated General Contractors.

Laborers Local 831 is striking against both Salley and Moore at two new school projects which the contractors are constructing for the Ouachita Parish School Board, because the contractors have refused to go along with the industry advancement fund section of the union's new contract.

Salley and Moore said they have asked the National Labor Relations Board to rule on the legality of such contributions by non-members of bargaining associations.

They also pointed out that they have agreed to all wages and welfare benefits included in the contracts.

The fund is question involves contribution by the contractor of five cents per hour for each union worker on the job.

As a result of picketing, work has been halted on the new Ouachita Parish Junior High and Elementary School on Nutland Road and the new Pinecrest School in ward nine. Salley is the contractor on the Nutland Road school project, while Moore is constructing the Pinecrest School.

Dam Project Bid Opening Is Set

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Bids will be opened here Feb. 7 for installation of two electric generators at the Toledo Bend dam power project.

Claude Kirkpatrick and D. N. Beasley, of the Sabine River Authorities of Louisiana and Texas, said the bids will be for construction of two generators, each capable of producing 38,250 kilowatts.

Hydraulic turbines will drive the equipment in the $60 million dam on Sabine River.

Roy Campanella's Former Wife Dies

GLEN COVE, N.Y. (UPI) — Mrs. Ruthe Campanella, estranged wife of former Brooklyn Dodgers star catcher Roy Campanella, died suddenly Friday of an apparent heart attack.

The 40-year-old woman was stricken while talking on the telephone in the luxurious 11-room home she and now-paralyzed Roy once had shared. Dr. Garrett Duryea, a neighborhood physician who was called, said she had a history of heart trouble.

Man Is Arrested For Joke Robbery

BATON ROUGE (AP) —Bartender Frank Devillier took it seriously when a customer told him he wanted a paper bag filled with money from his cash register.

The customer told him he had a gun, Devillier said, and he started to obey.

"Forget it," the customer said. "I was only joking." He left.

Police arrested J. R. Williams, identified as the customer, at his home early Friday and charged him with attempted armed robber

'Neighborliness' Cause Of Jail Term For Youth

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Mississippi neighborliness sent Joseph Holland, 18-year-old Indianapolis man, to jail Friday.

Police said Holland's car ran out of gas near Durant and a passing trucker offered aid. Another vehicle stopped a few minutes later and a third plowed off the road in confusion.

Highway patrolman Robert Salley was called to the scene, went for gas and brought it to Holland.

At the car, Salley asked where Holland got the car and he replied, "I stole it."

He was jailed here and police reported the car was stolen from a Jackson owner.

Chief of Detectives M. B. Pierce said Holland also admitted he was running away from Fort Polk, La., when he took the car.

Hoffa To Testify At Airing Of Bills

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — President James R. Hoffa of the Teamsters Union said Friday he does not believe in nationwide strikes but is against proposed legislation which would restrict strikes to one employer in one county.

Hoffa said he would personally testify against the Martin, McClellan and Goldwater bills due to be aired in March.

"We're going to encourage all unions to testify. We'll have about 100 persons testifying."

Hoffa is in Philadelphia to negotiate a regional trucking contract, similar to others in the nation.

Chemicals, Oils Pace Stocks In Late Rally

NEW YORK (UPI) — A late rally, paced by chemicals and oils, pushed the stock market slightly higher Friday and the Dow-Jones industrial average to a new recovery peak.

The Dow-Jones industrials rose 2.72 to 679.71—reflecting a jump of 4⅜ in Du Pont, 1⅛ in Westinghouse and 1 each in Procter & Gamble and International Harvester.

Rails were up 0.64, mirroring a gain of 1¾ in Norfolk & Western. Utilities, however, lost 0.04, mostly the result of a ¾-point drop in Houston Lighting.

Texas Pacific Coal rose 2¼ in the oils where Texas Gulf Producing advanced 2½, Standard Oil of Indiana 1¾ and Atlantic Refining a point.

Standard & Poor's 500-stock index was up 0.17 and trading totaled 4.77 million shares compared with 4.81 million in the previous session.

A total of 1,289 issues were traded of which 588 advanced and 461 declined—47 to a new 1962-63 high and only 1 to a new low.

Elsewhere in the chemicals, Kodak added ⅝ and Union Carbide advanced ½. U.S. Steel lost ⅝ in a weak steel group and Chrysler tacked on ½ in a mixed motor section.

Texaco shed 1¾ in the blue chip sector where United Aircraft dropped 1½. Beckman added 2 in the electronics followed by IBM up 2½.

American Photocopy topped the most active list for the third consecutive session, off ⅛ on 166,400 shares. The company recently said it expects record sales and earnings in its current fiscal year.

Stocks were firm on the American Stock Exchange on a turnover of 1.11 million shares compared with 1.24 million in the previous session. Featured were O'Kiep Copper, up 1¾ and Tampa Electric up ½.

BUSINESS HIGHLIGHTS

LIVING COST FALLS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The cost of living had the sharpest fall in four years in December, the Department of Commerce said Friday. However, the bitter cold weather this month will send the January index back up, the department predicted.

COLD CUTS PRODUCTION

DETROIT — The cold wave has cut automobile output at assembly plants across the country to 148,325 units this week. Ward's Automotive Reports said. That's a 5 per cent drop from the prediction and 4 per cent below last week. It still will be well above the 141,271 vehicles of a year ago.

SECOND HIKES DIVIDEND

NEW YORK — Socony Mobil Oil Co. boosted the dividend on its common stock from 50 to 60 cents a quarter on the basis of increased earnings of $1.34 a share in the last quarter of 1962, against $1.02 a year earlier.

ENTERS MOTEL BUSINESS

CLEVELAND — Standard Oil Co. (Ohio) announced it is going in the motel business and will build several 100 room motels in Ohio, Pennsylvania and Michigan.

SECURITY OFFERINGS SAG

WASHINGTON — The Securities and Exchange Commission estimated that corporations offered $10.8 billion worth of new securities in 1962—down $2.3 billion from the offerings in 1961.

Indonesia Arm Budget To Be Cut

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Indonesia's defense minister announced Friday that the armed forces budget will be slashed this year.

Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution was quoted by Antara news agency as saying defense would receive 47 per cent of the national budget as compared to 80 per cent in 1962.

He gave no specific figures and the exact size of last year's budget is not known.

Nasution said the cut is possible due to restoration of security throughout the country and the successful campaign to win control of West New Guinea from the Dutch.

Dozen Lebanese Twisters Arrested

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)— Police squads roamed downtown Beirut Thursday night, braving wind, rain and the fury of night club customers. They arrested a dozen dancers for doing the twist.

The twisters were taken to the station and released on bail, to face trial later this month.

'START LIFE ANEW IN U.S.'

More Refugees Brought From Freedomless Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Another 1,170 refugees reached the United States Friday from Communist Cuba and it was like, one of them cried, "emerging from a dungeon into fresh air."

"There is no freedom in Cuba," said Felipe Latour y Bravo, one of those who rode the American freighter Shirley Lykes through rough seas from Havana to Florida. "We are going to start life anew in the United States."

Some were old and in poor physical shape and many were pale from seasickness when they left the freighter at Fort Lauderdale's Port Everglades after a pitching, rolling voyage into 25 knot winds and through eight-foot seas.

There was sadness, too, because they had left behind their native land, and the sickness contracted in the smelly holds of the ship had not aided their dispositions.

But they smiled bravely, and they looked fine in their Sunday best, when they rode from the port in a cavalcade of buses to Miami Stadium, where 5,000 friends and relatives who had come earlier gave them a loud and cheerful greeting.

A special plane, which carried another load of medicines to Cuba Friday morning, winged back to Miami filled with Cuban-Americans.

The price of release from Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Communist regime is the surrender of all worldly possessions except three changes of clothing, so the migres came decked out in their best.

The glad sight of so many others from home helped to melt the misgivings.

"When I left Cuba, I felt scared about the future," said Roberto de Carrillo, 31, who arrived with his wife and two daughters. "But the fear left me when I saw all the people like us who are here."

Memories of present-day Cuba were bad. Carrillo said Russians are running all over Cuba, like lice on a dirty cow.

One refugee Dina Maria Casales Garcia, 68, recalled bitterly how she had been subjected to taunts and insults from pro-Castro Cubans, even her friends, because her son was a member of the Bay of Pigs invasion force.

So sadness melted into joy as the newcomers mingled with the welcoming crowd, including many members of the Brigade 2506 who had been captured at the Bay of Pigs, then freed just before Christmas for a $53-million ransom of food and medicine.

The Shirley Lykes had delivered 7,000 tons of the ransom supplies and returned with her human cargo, sailing out of Havana harbor at 7:25 p.m. Thursday.

A scene at the gang plank when the refugges came aboard gave agonizing expression to the reason why many religious Cubans have fled from godless communism.

"Thank God, thank God," cried an elderly woman when she crossed the gangplank and dropped to her knees on the deck of the freighter.

"No," called a member of the Cuban Red Cross, "Thank Fidel."

Because of the danger of overcrowding the rail, the refugees were taken below decks immediately. Their appeals for a last look at their homeland were denied, and they spent the voyage in the holds.

Throughout the night, a staff of Red Cross nurses roamed the ship, administering to the ill. An unusually large number became seasick because of emotional disturbance and the lack of hot food before leaving Cuba.

The Shirley Lykes docked at 8 a.m. The passengers ate light breakfasts on board, were given health and immigration checks, and the last one left the ship at 12:30 p.m., taking the last bus to Miami.

Friday's arrival brought to more than 3,600 the number who have fled to Florida on ransom vessels and by special planes since Pan American World Airways ended its daily flights during the Cuban blockade. These flights had been the escape route for thousands, averaging some 1,500 weekly.

Since Castro overthrew the President, Fulgencio Batista, and aligned the country with the Communist bloc, more than 300,000 have fled Cuba. About 150,000 now live in Miami, following the relocation of some 50,000 to other parts of the country. The rest have gone to other countries, mostly in Latin America.

The captain of the Shirley Lykes F. M. Kosieracki, Texas City, Tex., said he saw a great deal of Communist shipping activity in Havana harbor. A number of Russian, East German and Polish ships were seen, including one with a cargo boom suitable for unloading heavy military vehicles.

BEAUTIFUL LAND

OTTAWA (AP)—The new eastern section of Canada's Northwest Territories has been named Nunassiaq, an Eskimo word meaning "Beautiful Land." It was the choice of a majority of Eskimos, who voted in two plebiscites.

Negotiations To Reduce Tariffs Open

BRUSSELS (UPI)—Christian A. Herter, President Kennedy's special representative for trade negotiations, Friday opened talks aimed at reducing the tariffs charged by the United States and the European Common Market for the other's goods.

The former secretary of state also will meet with Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak to discuss the crisis facing the Common Market because of French attempts to block Britain's entry.

The decision on Britain is important to the United States' tariff negotiations with the market. British admission will open the way for Denmark, Norway, and Ireland to join.

The President, under the Trade Expansion Act, has the power to bargain U.S. tariffs down to zero on items in which the United States and the Common Market have 80 per cent of the world trade.

A larger common · Market means more items on this 80 per cent list. Tariffs could be abolishtd on coal, agricultural machinery, paint, cosmetics, musical instruments, some chemicals and aircraft if the market is expanded.

The trade act also impowers Kennedy to make reciprocal cuts of 50 per cent on all goods, regardless of the size of the market.

Until the market members know whether Britain will join the trading bloc, Herter can expect to make little progress on the tariff negotiations. His round of talks will last three days, but the whole process of tariff cutting may take a year.

Herter has refused to be drawn into the controversy over British membership, which centers on its attempts to gain concessions for its farmers and its trade ties with the Commonwealth. France, convinced Britain will not give up these attempts, wants the talks broken off unless the British agree to join without special terms.
